The Business meeting and annual tuncheon of the Eliot Woman's Association was held Tuesday of this week in the church parlors. The business meeting was at 10:30 and the luncheon under the direction of the social committee was served promptly at 19:30

On motion of Alderman Madden, Chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee, the aldermen Monday night voted to amend sections 576 and 577 of the Zoning Ordinance by adding the words "or a committee thereof" after the words "Board of Aldermen."

Because of the increased number of public hearings on zoning and other matters which have required the Board of Aldermen to meet at 5 p. m., and consumed so much time that important business coming before the Board was transacted in the small hours of the morning, when members who had been wearied by the routine of listening to arguments on a multiplicity of matters were in poor condition to devote their best energies to the real problems on the docket, the Legislature Committees rather than before the full Board.

Alderman Heathcote opposed the change because he thought full publicity should be given all matters and that by holding the hearings before the full Board, all the aldermen had more opportunity to ascertain the facts regarding the petitions.

60TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Z. Gould Manter of Newton Highlands celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage at their home, 58 Erie avenue, on Thursday, Setember twenty-ninth. Mr. and Mrs. Manter were married in Guilford, Maine, and came to Newton in 1918 where they have since resided. Mr. Manter is 86 years old and Mrs. Manter is 86 years old and Mrs. Manter is 86 years old and Mrs. Manter was a member of the House of Reresentatives, Augusta, Maine. He is a Civil War veteran, being a member of the Newton Post. He is also a member of the Masonic Order. While living in Maine he was very prominent in town affairs, having been in office there for twenty consecutive years and was Chairman of the Board of Selectmen for many years. He has a life appointment as Justice of the Peace.

A feature of the anniversary was a chicken dinner served to their three daughters and two sons-in-law. This dinner was cooked and served by Mrs. Manter, which shows how active she is. In the evening friends and neighbors called with gifts and good wishes, and a wedding anniversary cake was served. Many cards and gifts were received from friends in Maine and various other places.

Mr. Manter is very active for his age, often walking from Newton Highlands over to Newton Centre.

MORRIS SHAIN

Morris Shain of 62 Boyd street, Newton, formerly in the jewelry busi-ness at Newton Corner, died on Wed-nesday following a long illness. He was born in Russia 45 years ago and had resided here about 10 years. He is survived by his widow and two sons. His funeral was held Wednes-day. Burial was at Woburn. Following the luncheon several songs were rendered by Mrs. Enid Botsford with Mrs. Philip Horne at the piano. The President of the Association, Miss Grace Weston, introduced Professor Eliza Kendrick of Wellesley College as the speaker of the afternoon. Miss Kendrick was a delegate to the world conference of faith and order held at Lausanne last August, and told at length and most interestingly of the meetings held. About one hundred and fifty attended the luncheon and as there is a big active program planned for the coming year, it is hoped that all the women of the church will be interested and attend the meetings.

GIRL SCOUTS

Week-end dates at Camp Mary Day are in great demand among the Newston Girl Scout troops this October. The lovely Indian summer weather of the past two weeks seems to have turned the thoughts of the girls towards the joy of camping by Nones towards the joy of camping by Nones was the property of the week of the camp for the savor of kabobs chewed from a charred stick by the open fire. Troop 7 of Upper Falls will be in camp for the week-end of Oct. 14. Troop 10 of Newtonville will be in camp for the week-end of Oct. 15. Troop 23, Newton Centre, on Oct. 22, and Troop 14 of Waban on Oct. 22, and Troop 14 of Waban on Oct. 22, and Troop 14 of Waban on Oct. 28. The latter troop is planning to have itself a Halloween party at this time with witches, goblins, shosts and everything spooking around their camp fire.

Speaking of outdoor parties reminds us of the Harvest Festival at Cedar Hill in Waltham on Saturday, Oct. 15. This festival has become an annual affair and the proceeds are used for the Massachusetts Girl Scouts' home that was left to them by Miss Cornelia Warren. The public is cordially invited to come to Cedar Hill on this date to take part in the festivities and to wander through the historic maze and over the beautiful grounds. The Newton Council has charge of the cake table and plans are being made by its chairman, Mrs. Clinton Tylee of Newton Wille, to supply cake to the 1000 or more visitors that are expected to be present. The first captains' meeting of the year was held at Miss Freeman's house on Wednesday evening, Oct. 5. A this time plans were formed for the coming winter and new standards for coming winter and new standards for the Newton banner were discussed. The first rally, which will be held early in December, and which will be a health pageant, was described and commented upon. A number of plans were tentatively brought forth for dis-

A number of plans were tentatively brought forth for discussion and an opportunity was given to the captains to bring up individual problems which they felt might be solved by the experience of the group. Four captains' meetings are held each year and they prove to be most helpful and stimulating, as they provide a time when the leaders can meet to gether with the director for a more intimate discussion of methods and problems than is possible in the larger circle of the Officers' Association.

And by the way, the first meeting of the Officers Association will be held on Wednesday evening, Oct. 19, at the Unitarian Church in West Newton at 6:30 o'clock. This year the meetings will be held off the third Wednesday of each month instead of the second, as in past years.

The Waban Brownie Pack for girls from 6 to 10 years of age will hold its first meeting at the Episcopal Church on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 13, at 3 o'clock. It is earnestly hoped that all the old Brownies will be on hand dressed in their Brownie suits, with their Brownie smiles on their faces and their Brownie smiles on their faces and their Brownie usits, with their Brownie smiles on their faces and their Brownie smiles on their faces and their Brownie smiles on their faces and their Brownie dues in their pockets. New girls are asked to communicate with the Brown Owl of the Pack before coming to the meeting. Brown Owl's name is Mrs. Philip Ver-Planck, Jr., 34 Fenwick road, Waban, and her telephone number is Centre Newton 0359-W.

Alderman Grebenstein opposed the granting of the permit on the grounds that Athey knew when he bought the property that there was no room for a garage. He favored setting the garage under the house so that it woud be back the prescribed 15 feet from the street line. Alderman Hawkins informed the Board that the Athey lot is so narrow that there is but 7½ feet on either side of the house between the adjoining lot lines. He asked, "Do we want to encourage this kind of building? Shall we allow garages within 6 feet of the street line?" He asserted that one objector is entitled to consideration, even as ten objectors may be.

Special attention is called to the fact that this year a new course is offered for those teachers who are just beginning to teach, and the materials given in this class will be adapted to the needs and problems of those who register for it. Professor Berkeley will teach this course, which he calls simply "How to Teach." From first-hand knowledge of the church school, Professor Berkeley understands the needs of teachers in this group, and it is hoped that a large number will take advantage of it.

to Death

An amortized loan is one that calls for a regular schedule of partial payments until the principal sum is paid.

All our loans for home building and buying are made on this plan—which makes these loans the most secure in the world, and at the same time offers unusual advantages to the borrower. On a $5000 loan you are to pay $50 each month; $25 on the shares pledged for the loan, and $25 for interest. In about 140 months, the shares will be worth $5000 which will pay off the loan. You pay in $3500 on the shares. The 5 3-4 per cent does the rest.

TWI-LEAGUE TITLE

The second leg on the Graphic Cup and the city title were won by the Upper Falls Club in the city series between that team and the Newton Highlands nine last Saturday at the West Newton Common. It was the Falls third victory in five games, the first of which Highlands won and the second going to a 14-inning tie. The score of the final game was 7 to 3.

Bridey was on the mound for the winners with Mahoney on the receiving end. For the Highlands outfit Sullivan and McLaughlin twirled and Alan McClean caught. The members of the championship Upper Falls club are Neal Mahoney, John Moore, Leo Crowley, Edward Stanton, George Kenney, Joseph Russell. Steve Bennett, Newton Hanscom, John Simpson, William Proctor, Michael DeGeorge, Joseph Peloquin, John Proctor, Edward Goodwin, Charles Bridey and Thomas Simpson, manager.

Sunday afternoon on the West Newton Common the city champions were nosed out by an All-Star team picked from the other clubs in the Twilight League, 4 to 3, in the final game of the season.

Newton Men On Bowdoin Eleven
The entire Bowdoin team was made up as general thing of Newton men. Every Newton man that has been out for the team had an opportunity to pick up experience in the Yale game when the Polar Bears went down to defeat before his heavier and more experienced opponent. Stewie Stone was one of the shining lummaries in the battered Maine team's lineup and his former captain, Bob Adams put up a smashing game at right end. Adams is now ranked as one of the finest ends in the state of Maine and his play is one of the best things about the Bowdoin eleven's work. Dan Kennedy was unable to get into the game because of his injuries, but it is expected that he will be back next week for the beginning of the real Newton Men On Bowdoin Eleven eek for the beginning of the real

Recent press stories tell of the aim of the Everett eleven to reach a total

UANNA'S 85-YD. RUN FEATURE OF GAME

The story of the Newton-Medford game at Clafflin Field last Saturday, which the visitors won 13 to 0, is soon told. It all happened in the second period. Shortly after the period began, Bennett punted to the Medford 40-yard line and Medford started for Newton's goal line. A series of end runs and off-tackle plays carried to the 17-yard line. Wells then tossed a forward pass to Edgerley, who reached the 1-yard line before Phil Andres brought him down. Gilligan backed up the line in fine shape on the next play and a line-plunge was stopped dead. Edgerley, however, slipped over on the next play for the first touchdown. Gatchell broke through and blocked the Medford captain's try for goal.

down. Gatchell broke through and blocked the Medford captain's try for goal.

Newton kicked off to Edgerley on the 10-yard line about in line with the goal posts. He started towards the right side of the field and the Newton team ran that way to get him. As he passed the 15-yard line, however, his teammate, "Bud" Uanna, crossed over behind his leader, who passed the ball to him unseen by many on the Newton eleven. Uanna bore down the opposite side of the field and got under full headway before the local team got after him. Scheinfein and Hamilton nearly caught up with him after he had dodged his way between several Orange and Black players, but Miller, a Medford end, threw himself in front of the two Newtonites and put them both out of the play. Uanna had no trouble in covering the remaining 30 yards for a touchdown. Edgerley kicked the rocal making the secon 12. yards for a touchdown. Edgerley kicked the goal, making the score 13

First Quarter

Medford kicked off to Newton and Bennett promptly kicked to the 10-yard line. Medford returned the kick but Edgerley was hurried and the ball went outside at the Medford 28-yard line. Newton could not gain against the heavy Medford line and lost the ball on downs. Two plays gained but little and Wilder punted to Gilligan, who muffed the punt. Wells recovered and Medford had the ball in Newton territory. The visitors could not gain and Edgerley tried a placement goal, which went wide. Newton played a defensive game and Bennett was called upon to punt several times. The upon to punt several times. The period ended with Edgerley intercept-ing a Newton forward in midfield and carrying to Newton's 27-yard line.

Second Quarter

Several plays gained little and on fourth down Edgerley tried a placement which failed. Bennett punted well into Medford territory and Wilder kicked back to Newton's 25-yard line. Bennett again punted to Medford's 40-yard line when Medford started its march as told above. Shortly after Medford's second score the period ended

Third Quarter

Newton was forced to play a defensive game entirely through the period, and fought with its back to the goal line as punt after punt was exchanged. Bennett was on the bench during most of the period and Duane and Andres fought off the opponents' threats. The quarter ended with Andres making a 30-yard gain on a forward pass from Gilligan.

Medford looks like a possible State champion. What a game it would be if they played Lawrence. Perhaps well in a post-season affair. Time they will tell.

It was more of a day for a trip to the "ole swimmin' hole" than a football game. The sun was hot enough to make the spectators take off their coats.

The new stands on the north side of their coats.

Fourth Quarter

Fourth Quarter

A few minutes after play was resumed, Medford was again in Newton's territory but Coach Sullivan sent his first string men back onto the field and they took the ball from Medford on downs on the 25-yard line. Mullen made a seven-yard gain on an end run before Bennett was forced to punt to Medford's 25-yard line. Here Medford started another long march which ended when the final whistle blew, with the ball but five feet from the goal. One or two more plays would have meant another score.

TWO GAMES AT HAND -COLE IS CAPTAIN

The Newton High football eleven has two hard games coming within the next few days. Cambridge Latin visits Claffin Field tomorrow in one of the opening games of the 1927 Suburban Loague. The veteran Everett aggregation will be Newton's opponent on the holiday afternoon. Both games will be called at 2:30. Because of the fact that Columbus Day falls upon a Wednesday this year leaving but two days' rest for a game on the following Saturday, it was deemed best to advance the opening of the league to this coming Saturday, thus bringing Newton and Cambridge together a week earlier than usual. Another change from the usual is the holiday game which heretofore has taken place in the morning. This year it will be played in the afternoon.

Both games should be among the headliners on the schoolboy cards for each day. Newton showed considerable of a defense last Saturday against Medford and should be able to stave off the Cambridge Latin advances. The Cantabs held the Salem eleven to a 7 to 7 tie in their opening game two weeks ago. Last Saturday they defeated the Newburyport High team 19 to 13 in a hard-fought game.

It is hard to see how Newton can stave off defeat at the hands of Everett on the holiday. Regardless of the outcome of the game the fans are assured of a good battle as the Newton High lads are out to give all they have and then some to win from Everett. Everett has rolled up a total of 104 points against Reading, Deering and Chelsea. They are coming up against some stiffer opposition in their games from now on and their scores will be a great deal lower.

Coach Sullivan announced that sufficient returns were in from the recent postcard election for the vacancy as captain caused by the resignation of a great deal lower.

Coach Sullivan announced that sufficient returns were in from the recent postcard election for the vacancy as captain caused by the resignation of Frank Spain prior to the opening of the season to give the permanent captaincy to Romaine Cole, veteran end, who has been acting captain in both of Newton's games. Cole is one of the fastest men on the squad and is a valuable member of the track team in the sprints. He has also done some hurdling. Everett Scheinfein, Newton's diminutive left end, was not far behind Cole in the running for the captaincy. He is a junior, however, and will probably be a leading candidate for next year's captaincy. Cole is a senior and is playing his last season for the Orange and Black.

The Newton mentor has made some decided changes in the Newton backfield. Scheinfein is calling the plays in the huddle, while one of the other backs is calling out the signals. Duane or Mullen will probably hold down the quarterback position in tomorrow's game.

Although pretty well used up, the Newton squad came through the Medford game without any serious injuries. The broiling sun and intense heat took a lot out of Sullivan's players but a day's rest soon put them back into fine fettle.

Medford was without its best full-ack, Donahue. They didn't need him.

The new stands on the north side of the field were pretty well filled and looked as though they were in no danger of collapsing. Altogether well over 3000 attended the game.

Medford had a mascot who was only as big as a pint of cider. He has a lot of pep though to make up for his size.

By Harold P. Carver, N. H. S. '26

By Harold P. Carver, N. H. S. '26

The college days are upon us when every ardent lover of the class room gathers his books and retreats to some dim corner to study calculus, and every ardent lover of the open air slings the books into a far corner and hits for the open road or the field where the sports take place. This is the time when examinations look far distant, and the present day is all that counts. It is the best time of the college yec.. It is autumn.

Harvard College has opened its doors again on the Charles as it has for a long number of years and the students have been buslly watching their assignments, and what their periods would be. Among those present from Newton are Charlie Parker, the tennis star who is striving for a good scholastic standing in the entering class, Guy Holbrook now a sophomore, and Maynard Moody, also one of the second year students. Moody has been traveling all summer through the West and his experiences will provide many an evenings pleasant discussion in the Smith Quad. Duncan Howlett is once again at his books along with his teammate Ted Day and both boys expect that this coming spring will see them wrapped in their cap and gown while the band plays Fair Harvard. Bob Savory may have passed into the land of business, but his younger brother Richard is at Harvard and more than doing his share to uphold the family honor when it comes to scholastic standing. Harvard Collece has opened the doors again on the Charles as it has for a long number of years and the construction of the collection of the construction of the const

Three Newton girls are taking the courses at the Boston School of Physical Education this year. Two of them are in the entering class, and last year these two girls were the backbone of all the girls' athletic teams. Dorothy Barba and Marion Frost are freshmen at the school, and should, if the past is anything to go by, be among the foremost members of their class. Virginia Hapgood is entering her third year as a student at the school and she expects to be one of the leading candidates for graduation next year.

"A Second Trip to Mexico, with a Glimpse Into the Past" will be the subject of the regular 3 o'clock illustrated talk next Saturday, Oct. 8, at the Children's Museum of Boston in Jamaica Plain. This will be the second talk in the October series, "Visits With Americans Other Than Ourselves," and will be given by Miss Charlotte Easton, Curator of Education. The Museum Game will be played on Saturday afternoon at 2:15. This is a chance for boys and girls to earn points toward a Museum League Diploma and Pin.

On Columbus Day, October 12th, a Moving Picture Talk which is especially interesting in view of the recent disaster in St. Louis will be given at 11 o'clock and again at three. This will be a fascinating film showing how a tornado begins, and how the comparative vacuum in the center of the revolving whirlwind makes this kind of storm such a dangerous enemy. Those who see "The Birth of a Tornado" will also have a surprise at the end of the film.

REV. CHARLES F. RICE, D.D.

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night unanimously voted to grant a common victualler's license to Mrs. Jennie Moriarty at 229 River street, West Newton. The aldermen had previously, on July 25th, granted a common victualler's license to Mrs. Moriarty, but Mayor Childs subsequently vetoed the permit because certain persons living on River street objected, and he told the aldermen in his communication regarding the veto that these objectors should have an opportunity to voice their protests before the Franchise and License Committee, Chairman Hawkins of the License Committee informed the Board "that the objectors had been requested to appear before the committee, but had not done so, and that 96 residents of the district had signed a petition favoring the granting of the permit for a common victualler's license. Alderman Fitts stated that Mayor Childs has no desire to interfere with the action of the aldermen on the merits of the case, and will not further oppose it.

The meeting of the Auburndale Parents' Association at the Levi F. Warren Junior High School on Monday evening, October 3, was attended by one hundred and fifty parents. The annual report of the officers showed that the first year of this Association had been one of splendid achievement under the effective leadership of its Chairman, Mrs. Frank V. Burton. This report included a statement by the President and written summaries by the Secretary, Mrs. A. D. Becker and the Treasurer, Mr. Ernest Braithwaite.

A communication from the School Committee indicated that steps were immediately to be taken for the grading and equipping of the Williams School playground, land for which adjoining the school committee last spring as the result of an aggressive campaign by the Parents' Association. A great deal of interest is being shown by the members of the Association in the completion of the play areas at the Levi F. Warren School. It was also reported that as a result of efforts on the part of the Executive Committee dog owners were required to muzze their dogs for thirty days during the hot season and a silent policeman is to be installed at the corner of Grove and Woodland streets.

The meeting had the pleasure of hearing a discussion of the Junior High School as a unit in the City School system by Superintendent Bacon and the Principal of the Warren School, Mr. Scarborough. Mrs. Porter Russell, President of the Federated Women's Clubs of Newton also spoke. Under the leadership of Mr. Scarborough the parents present had the pleasure of a tour of inspection through the new high school. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the choice of the following: Chairman, G. H. Roehrig, Secretary, Mrs. H. B. Morse, Treasurer, Frank V. Burton. Additional members of the Executive Committee Mrs. Frederick J. Good and Mrs. Hector Gai.

HUNNEWELL CLUB SMOKER

Tuesday evening an open house and smoker was held at the Hunne-well club, opening the fall season. Nearly one hundred members and their friends were present to witness the feature event of the evening, a bowling match of ten strings each between Archie Walsh and Paul Poehler. The pair kept the spectators on edge throughout the match with many strikes and spares. At the end off the ninth string Walsh was leading Poehler by a single pin and during the final string the lead kept shifting from one to the other until the last few boxes when Walsh drew ahead to win with a total plinfali of 1098 against 1085 for Poehler. Only one of the twenty strings fell below a hundred when Walsh got several had breaks for a 97 on his second string. Poehler's 139 was the high for the match.

Following the match the alleys, pool, billiard and card tables were well patronized by those present. Light refreshments were served.

MRS. MARY C. BOURDON

Mrs. Mary C. Bourdon, wife of Denys B. Bourdon of 977 Beacon street, Newton Centre, died on Monday at her late home. She was born 89 years ago at North Haven, Conn., and had resided in Newton for 45 years. Mrs. Bourdon was the daughter of Elizur Tuttle who was a descendant of one of the early settlers of the state. Graduating from Mt. Holyoke in 1871, she taught at the Hillhouse School in New Haven. She was for many years president of the Mt. Holyoke Alumnae Association and also a trustee of that college. She is survived by her husband, two sons, Oswin T., and Octave H., and two daughters, Miss Marguerite L. and Miss Mildred H. Bourdon. Her funeral was held Wednesday. Private services were conducted at her late residence by Rev. E. M. Noyes. Interment was at her native place, North Haven, Conn.

SCHOOL NOTES

The third regular assembly of the Levi Warren Junior High School was opened with the singing of "America," a Scripture reading and prayer led by the principal, Mr. Scarborough. Two talks on the campaign for courtesy, cooperation and service were given by Priscilla Wales and Shirley Williams. As there was no special speaker of the day, a miscellaneous program was arranged. The first selection was a reading, "Somebody's Mother," by Rosalind Bigelow. This was followed by a piano solo by Jeanette Ramee. "Billy Bale's Bicycle," a thrift dramatization in three acts, was presented by some pupils of the eighth grade. Another selection, "The Wind in the Willows," was played by Jeanette Ramee and a delightfully humorous piece, "Seein' Things," was read by Rosalind Bigelow. Twenty Boy Scouts gave an interesting demonstration of bandaging, signaling and improvising a stretcher.

October finds all the clubs well started.

The Mothers Club opened with a general social and business meeting. Everyone is determined to make the effort of the year for the bazaar. Already there have been three small meetings in homes. Each group is devoted to making a definite article. Monday afternoon the first division of eight members went to visit the Priscilla Proving Plant. Oct. 10th Mrs. Wellman is to speak.

The senior girls began with classes for tennis, but now all their energy is concentrated toward a Hallowe'en ministrel show; that is, all the energy left over from showers and weddings, which seem to be the real specialties this fall.

The Colonna Club started with its usual opening party and semi-banquet. The Italian Embroidery begins next week with Mrs. Di Perseo and plans for making leather Christmas gifts are in favor. As usual, the Colonna Club party was distinguished from all other opening parties by its color and decoration.

The new practice will be gradually introduced. During the first day in each office but a few hundred telephone users will notice the change. In the course of time calls from all telephones connected with the three central offices in Newton will be met with the new response.

From time to time other central offices will adopt the new method under the direction of supervisors trained in the work. It will be some time before the change is in effect in all offices. The reasons for the innovation are explained as follows:

"This new practice is merely another step in our constant effort to improve telephone service to the public. Our company never changes an established practice until after extensive study and trial has proved that it will be in the interest of better service. This is true with the new "thank you' practice.

"The new method has been in operation for several months in other parts of our territory and has proved obsetter for telephone users and for the company.

"We have learned by experience" better for telephone users and for the company.

"We have learned by experience that with proper training the repeating of numbers does not assure greater accuracy. Furthermore, the new 'thank you' method saves the time of telephone users and removes any confusion due to repetition of numbers. "Repeating a number required telephone users to wait on the line longer than is necessary under the new practice of saying 'thank you.' Thus the new practice saves the time for the public.

The new 'thank you' practice pr "The new thank you practice yield that if an operator is in any doubt as to a number given her, she will request the subscriber to repeat it. This provision acts as a safeguard to prevent misunderstanding.

to prevent misunderstanding.

"When several operators, working side by side, were all repeating different numbers at the same time, an operator sometimes misunderstood the number requested by a subscriber. With operators now saying 'thank you,' there is not this possibility."

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB STARTS SEASON

The Highland Glee Club of Newton

H. Wight, 25 Moreland avenue, Newton Centre.

The local club has gained considerable recognition in musical circles, having been awarded the second prize, the past two years, in the annual contest of the Federated Men's Glee Clubs of New England. It has introduced many soloists of note to Newton music lovers. Those who read of the ovation accorded Richard Crooks, in Berlin, recently, may recall that he was the soloist of the Highland Glee Club only three years ago.

The club gives two concerts annually. Associate members, who pay annual dues of five dollars, receive two tickets to each of these concerts. Mr. Sherman L. Smith, 159 Warren street, Newton Centre, is chairman of the associate membership committee.

COMING EVENTS

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

Mrs. Frank Frost opens her home, 52 Erie avenue, on Monday afternoon, October 10, for the first meeting of the Monday Club of Newton Highthe Monday Club of Newton High-lands. The business meeting will be called to order at 2:30 o'clock, by the president, Mrs. Frank A. Camp-bell. The program of the day is to be A Play, presented under the direc-tion of Mrs. H. E. Williams.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will continue its study of China at its second meeting to be held on Oct. 10, at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of the assistant secretary of the Club, Miss Adelaide R. Webster, 10 Chester street. Mrs. C. Peter Clark, in charge of the program, has as her topic, "China, Yesterday and Today." The president, Mrs. Ernest G. Hapgood, will preside. The change in place of meeting should be noted by Club members.

Business and Professional Women's Division of Auburndale Woman's Club

The Business and Professional Women of the Auburndale Woman's Club will hold their first meeting of the new year on Monday evening, October 10, in the Lounge of the Auburndale Club House, at eight o'clock. This will be a social get-together with music furnished by talented Club members and refreshments, following the curiosity-provoking entitled lecture—"Individual Psychology as Applied to the Business Woman"—to be given by May Jacobs. Miss Edna H Moir, chairman of this Group, will preside.

The first meeting of the Juniors of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held Monday evening, October 10, at 7 o'clock, at the home of the Director, Mrs. B. Howard Lester, 133 Bigelow road, and all members are urged to be present, as important plans for the year's work and activities will be discussed and formed. Officers of the Club met Thursday evening, the 6th, to talk over tness matters which will be brought to the attention of the members for decision. Miss Marion Jackson, president, will preside.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Auburndale Woman's Club

The program for the Auburndale Woman's Club on Thursday afternoon, October 13, will be short, so wisely giving a longer time for the enjoyment of sociability, the reception, and tea, for Club members who have not assembled for some months. Mrs. George F. Nudd, the president, will call the meeting to order at 2:30 o'clock, in the Club Room of the Anburndale Club House. Mrs. Lorraine Foat Holmes, a Club member, will read; Jean Budding, a Club daughter, will dance, and Mrs. Jean Goodr'ch, teacher of piano at Lasell, will be the pianist.

On the next day, so speedily assuring the Club of music to be furnished when needed, the Club Chorus will hold its first rehearsal. It isn't every Club that has the advantage of a trained group upon whom they can depend to supply this most necessary filling-in for an all-around program, and that the Auburndale Chorus shoulders its responsibility and privilege is attested by this timely attention to its work.

will hold its first meeting of the season, with Mrs. Harry W. Fitts, president, presiding. After the business meeting, there will be a Costume Recital by the Flomondel Trio, Miss Florence Hale, Soprano; Miss Claramond Thompson, Contraito; and Miss Elsie Luker, Pianologues. This promises to be most fascinating, since it will include songs of China, France and Russia, Folk Songs and Ballads of the British Isles, and Melodies of the South, with Songs of the Long Ago—a variety that will lend interest. Following the program there will be the always pleasurable social hour, in a Reception to officers, and with tea served by the Hospitality Committee. The afternoon session will open place does seem a far journey.

The afternoon session will open at 2 o'clock with music by the Ramsdell Trio and Flora Raleigh Phinney, Soprano. Mrs. Heman A. Harding, the Director of the entertaining District—the first—will bring a greeting. The high light of the day will be the Address then to be given by Governor Ralph O. Brewster, of Maine, his subject being "The Renaissance of New England." This is especially timely as a message in view of the New England Conference just held at Burlington, Vermont, at which Governor Brewster was a speaker. Massachusetts has accomplished something in gaining the attendance of this speaker, among the foremost of New England's citizens, and Clubwomen will try to attend this meeting, even if its place does seem a far journey.

Trains leave the South Station, Boston, at 8:30 a.m., and one returns from Onset at 5:16 p.m. Railroad fare is $1.87 each way. Transportation will be furnished from the Onset station to and from The Temple. Luncheon tickets at $1.00 may be secured by sending check and self-addressed, stamped envelope before October 17 to Mrs. Frank A. Besse, Wareham.

The West Newton Women's Educational Club will meet the coming senson in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church, and on Friday afternoon, October 14; the first Club program will be given here at 2:30 o'clock. After the business meeting over which the president, Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, will preside, there will be a lecture by Mr. Edward I. Farrington, secretary of the Horticultural Society, on "Flowers from Frost to Frost." This program has been avranged by the Art Committee, Mrs. Arthur M. Teulon, chairman, and its subject, beautifully illustrated, is one that does indeed come under the jurisdiction of art. With the falling of the leaves, the glory of autumn flowers is brought even more to appreciation, and to follow at this moment of the year, just before the dearth of foliage and blossom, the life of flowers from springtime to harvest, will be a panorama of review that will be most welcome.

For music there will be solos by Miss Marie Sladen, and during the CLUB INSTITUTES. Clubwomen who are wondering what this new department is, mentioned above as to be described at the Fall Meeting, may read what Mrs. Walker herself says of it and its plans:

"We are starting the year with a committee of eight—women of widely varied club experience—representatives of the rural club, the small town club, the large city club, the cultural club and other types of clubs. Club Institutes are to help us to a better understanding of methods of running the machinery of our organizations, not to provide material for more work. The Club Institutes Commitmittee is therefore planning to run a series of conferences on the first Thursday of November, December, January, February, March and April, I, from 10 o'clock until noon at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, when the Committee will be ready to discuss with club presidents or interested club members or with women interested in forming new clubs any questions concerning the running of club machinery. The special topic for discussion on November 4 will be "Club Finances," which will include such subtopics as dues, endowments, budgets, and ways of raising club funds,"

Doesn't that sound attractive, and a very worthwhile kind of Conference?

CONGRATULATIONS. To the State Federation, to Newton, and to For music there will be solos by Miss Marie Sladen, and during the social hour that will follow tea will be served. The teachers in the public schools of West Newton are to be the guests of the Community Service Club at a bridge party on Thursday, Oct. 20, at 2:30 o'clock, at the Neighborhood Club, Those who can be present either for bridge, or for tea at 4:30, should notify Mrs. George Fuller, 19 Balcarres road, before Oct. 12th.

Members of the Newton Circle, Inc., have been working busily and Joyously during the long summer days making many lovely or practical articles to entice the eye, appeal to the heart, and "feel" into the pocket-books of all who will attend their Annual Bazarar which is to be held on Wednesday and Thursday, November 16 and 17, at the Copley Plaza, Boston. This opportunity to acquire Christmas glits is one always anticipated by those who have made their way to these bazaars in previous years. The splendid, if quietly effective, work for which this affair raises funds is well known and appreciated especially by Newton Clubwomen.

Members, or others, who have articles to contribute, are asked to send them at once to Mrs. E. P. Brown of Washington street, Newton, the chairman of the bazaar; to Mrs. Ellas Bishop, of Newton Centre, or to the prestdent of Newton Cricle, Mrs. John T. Lodge, 333 Commonwealth avenue. ence?

CONGRATULATIONS. To the State Federation, to Newton, and to our own beloved Clubwoman, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge! To the State for having secured so faithful, efficient, practical, energetic, and level-headed a chairman of Conservation. To Newton for having the honor of one of her own chosen for service in the Federation. And to Mrs. Goodridge that recognition of her qualities has so come to her. We wish her success, happiness, and the satisfying of aims and ideals!

Of many fine statements made by the Federation president, Mrs. Arthur D. Potter, in her opening message to Massachisetts Clubwomen, we quote only a few lines—those which seem especially fitting as introductory to the Fall meeting soon to be held:

"From great open spaces of sea and land, from 'Castles in the Air,' from real and imaginary vacations, we are now returning to the joy of intensified work. The sum total of our summer's experiences should help us to keep alive and active an interest in those things which will quicken the pulse, and amid conflicting currents of action, give us strength to pursue the truth.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

Hark! "Tist the sound of ringing closelis! What a world of conversation their melody foretells, as Longfellow or some other poet did not put it. No, kind friends, I am not about to induge in a panegyric of the carillough that automobilists drive miles out of their way and defy all traffic rules to enjoy. Although in hearty accord with the spirit and charm of these beautiful chimes and their musical message to the human race, I have other bell-ringers in mind.

I refer among others in the man Large of the bell-ringers in mind.

I refer among others of a sum considered by higher than that charged for it at the store. He is merely a philauthropist, is this individual, for here is something the stores do not carry and which is not advertised. It is manufactured for a selected trade who are sure to appreciate something extraordinary and special of which they woul! never have heard had not this gentleman taken the trouble to ring the front-door bell and inform them. I also refer to the man with a demonstrate that eappearance of the front lawn or back yard could be improved, but he happens at the moment to have some spare time on his hands which he would like to employ cutting the grass, raking leaves or doing something of those things which take us out in the open. It is a great surprise to him when he learns that there is someone who does the work regularly. That thought, it seems, had never occured to him. After receiving the explanative will be reluctant to accept and yet to show that he does not feel insulted will receive the dime with thanks.

The next bell-ringer that comes to my mind is the man who may only live a short distance down the street but who has never called before an adventure of the properties of an indorsement blank as a memento of his visit.

But these are only a few of our bell-ringers. I could tell of more but I must stop writing and go out and answer the front-door bell.

Pity the youngsters of today who can't go hunting chestnuts for the simple reason there are no chestnuts to be hunted. It's all happened in the few past years, this wiping-out of one of the greatest Autumn pastimes. To think that one may wander through the woods in this golden October weather is indeed a delightful thought but hunting chestnuts along with it, is, or was, a true sport.

was, a true sport. Everybody had knowledge where the Everybody had knowledge where the chestnut trees were located and whether nuts could be gathered without interference from the owner, his hired help or the police. There were spots where it was no crime to kick around through the fallen leaves in search of the nuts. Some property holders had no objection to that, but they protested, and rightly, too, when clubs were thrown into the branches to bring down the burrs and their contents.

"We'll that's handing out a rough one, I'll say, It's flattering indeed, to be called upon to answer for all mankind, but "A Busy Mother" should have chosen a more competent spokesman. If I faiter, however, she may charge me with passing the buck so I'll just have to say something, and here is it:

When women were first elected to the Massachusetts House of Representatives there was a great flutter at the House. The Sergeant-at-Arms scurried around to provide them a "lobby" for themselves, for obviously it would never do to expect them to loiter with the male members in the great corridor where the he-legislators gathered to talk, seated on large leather sofas and puffing at pipes, cigars and cigarettes.

So there was a small committee room on the fourth floor assigned to the two women members and it is still in use. Now wasn't that a concest.

So there was a small committee room on the fourth floor assigned to the two women members and it is still in use. Now wasn't that a concession? Could anything have been more considerate, albeit gallant? Surely equality would not be expected to include occupancy of the same smoking, reading and writing room with 238 busy men, or more or less busy men.

The women legislators have always had good committee assignments. Although they have never held chairmanships they have held clerkships. Now a male clerk of a committee can carry an important bill or committee report around in his pocket and create considerable excitement thereby and while a woman clerk may not have a pocket capacious enough she can hang on to the bill or report in some other way. Therefore, what's the difference? The suspense is equally intense.

After all, a vote is a vote and since one member is entitled to one vote what does it matter whether it is the vote of a woman or a man legislator?

To me the woman politicians or office-holders have only "got started."

As their numbers increase—there are three in the present Massachusetts House of Representatives—they will have greater influence, and I mean what I say. It seems to me that it all proves that which I tried to make clear last week, that women can accomplish much more for the public good in municipal, State or National affairs and that they ought to get busy and prove it themselves.

sentially an armory and the that as torium.

It seems to me inevitable that as Newton expands, I mean by that the growth of population, there are problems that must be faced and not pigeon-holed. It may be that this is an inopportune time in view of the projects already undertaken and which call for a splendid display of public spirit, but isn't it worth keeping in mind.

New England Conference

New England Conference

Of many splendid addresses, and the presenting of much worthwhile information, there was no end at the New England Conference held at Burlington, Vermont, September 29 and 30, the outline of which program was given in this Column last week. Outlings, enjoyment of friendships, and of the great outdoors in ideal conditions, can be realized in imagination by those who could not attend. But from all this we of Massachusetts may desire most to know what our own Grace Morrison Poole had to say in her address on "international Friendships," that was the outstanding feature of the Conference, holding many significant facts, and given with directness and intense interest, so much so, in fact, your editor takes considerable space to quote a few of the vital points made:

"Two years ago I became acquainted with our friendly allies and they

Itice
To believe in the resurrection of Hungary, Amen.

"It is taught to the children growing up, and is the battle cry of its leading men. Feeling runs so high in that former part of Hungary known as Transylvania, which now belongs to Roumania, that the people of Hungary are not allowed to visit Transylvania, even though their own kin may be there, and all letters going in and coming out are censored. The Hungarians are naturally monarchists, and some day one of the three contenders to the throne will, I believe, rule that country. Hungary is the gate to the seast, you know, and gates are important in history making!

"Poor Austria today is only a shadow of her former brilliant self, with a government so weak that any local crisis theatens to send the country into chaos. Can you imagine such a condition existing that a mob could ury building in Washington, and the burn a building as large as the Treaspolice and firemen powerless to prevent it? That's just what happened in Vienna. The beautiful Palace of Justice was completely wrecked, and the country dared not call out its troops until it could make sure that regiments loyal to the government could be brought in. Is Austria drifting into the arms of Germany? Not if France can prevent it, but alone her future looks dark.

"Frankly I dreaded to go into Germany. I've come back with a tremendous respect for that nation, with a firm belief that she can pay her reparations and not many years from now she will be one of the two or three leading powers of the world again. She is determined to regain her place in the sun and she is bending all her energies towards that end. I believe that the Republic is firmly fixed in Germany and there seems to be a real affection and respect for President Hindenberg in all parts of the country. There is a strong socialistic party in Germany.

"If you were asked what the world needed more than anything else you would, I know, immediately answer Peace. There is only one way to get peace, develop a friendship among nations so strong th Keeping faith with New England was the central theme of the Conference. Dean Hills of the Agricultural Dept., of the University of Vermont, said that this University was the first college in the East, if not in the country, to throw open its doors to women, which it did in 1871. He took the places as speaker of Hon. Guy W. Bailey, and W. H. Linsley, acting mayor of Beecher. Mrs. H. A. Slayton quoted the motto of Vermont as "Freedom and unity," and applied it as "freedom" from women's burdens, and dom and unity," and applied it as "freedom" from women's burdens, and "unity," the joining of women together for discussion and work. "Blessed be the New England Conference for its friendships," said Mrs. Harry H. Burnham at the opening session. "The purpose of the New England Conference, according to its constitution, is to consider matters of vital importance to New England with a view to co-operation."

importance to New England with a view to co-operation."

Dudley Harmon said that the New England Council has tried to look upon New England as if it were one big piece of property owned by a corporation. In that case, what could the board of directors do to improve it? The Council is a stimulating body to arouse others to do the needed things and to act as a co-ordinating agency. Through its influence, bankers, agricultural experts, New England power Companies and Raliroads are now studying the situation in New England. In the last analysis, the people of a community will control conditions by their own attitude toward them.

Another speaker said: For her economic salvation, New England must be pleasing to the stranger within her gates. Success as a playground will add all other things. The New England will hader must now tell the whole truth lander must now tell the whole truth and tell it to everybody. It's as big a lie to understate as to overstate. New England may be merely a miniature or a group of miniatures, but she has all varieties of scenery within her borders. She is a noble national park, easily reached in all parts. She is a diminutive packed with superlative attractions. Women's Clubs should chaperone outdoor advertising. The perfect road is the first corrected to ourselves, and the first corrected to ourselves, and the first corrected to ourselves, and the first corrected to the first corrected to the first corrected to the first corrected to ourselves, and the first corrected to ourselves, and the first corrected to ourselves, and the first corrected to the first corrected to ourselves, and the first corrected to ourselves, and the first corrected to ourselves, good roads leading to mountain trails, "Homey" village inns and commodious city hotels, goif courses in a region built for golf, and facilities for winter sports which will capitalize the winter vacation idea,—ail these will entice and hold the tourist.

capitalize the winter vacation idea,—ail these will entice and hold the tourist.

The topic for Friday morning session was "How to Make the Old New England live in the new New England." Massachusetts was represented by Mrs. Arthur J. Crockett, chairman of community service, who spoke on Citizenship. "This Fall the Elephant and the Donkey will be much in evidence in the Presidential Parade, and with them is another, the ostrich, which well represents nearly fifty percent of our possible voters. They hide their heads in the sands of indifference and ignorance and with b.ind faith believe all national dangers will pass them by. We of the Women's Clubs have been so afraid of becoming entangled that we have failed to use our power to improve the machinery of politics. Every woman should align herself with some political party. To the objection that every party has defects, I would reply that doubtless most of us wanted to choose perfect husbands. Not many of us succeeded, but most of us are happy with the ones we have, and are quite sure we have improved them. Why not try the same method in parties?" Officers elected on Friday morn-

Officers elected on Friday morning were: Chairman, Mrs. Guy A. Speare of Plymouth, N. H.; Vicechairman, Mrs. Caesar Misch of Providence, R. I.; Sec. Treas., Mrs. Otis G. Bunnell of New Haven, Conn.

The Nominating Committee which presented these officers included Mrs. Ernest R. Brackett of West Medford, Mass., chairman; Mrs. Bertram Blaisdell of Meredith, N. H., and Mrs. K. R. B. Flint of Northfield, Vt.

The New England Conference for 1928 was invited by Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter to be the guest of Massachusetts at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, Sept. 25, 26, and 27, 1928.

One of the most dramatic moments of the Mountains' was for sale, and she launched a New England-wide campaign to save Franconia Notch and the "Old Man" from lumbermen and commercial exploiters.

The Conference voted to have a committee appointed by the conference and make available information about New England problems and to cooperate with the New England Council for their solution. A second commetch State was to be appointed to cooperate with the New England Council and with Miss Julia E. Jaffrey in matters pertaining to the Cooper bill, to eliminate contract labor in prisons. Such was the decision of the able and excellent judges of the contest, Edward E. Whiting, Chairman, author, columnist and trustee of the Boston Elevated, Rev. William Johnson, S. The awards will be presented to the winners at the installation meeting of Newton Counci, K. of C., Monday night at Elks Hall at 8 o'clock.

Thirty four high school students submitted essays in the first contest of its kind sponsored by Newton Council on the subject, "The effect of the discovery of America by Columbus upon modern civilization." The subject was named by John E. Swift of Milford, Supreme Director and State Deputy of the Knights of Columbus.

Milford, Supreme Director and State Deputy of the Knights of Columbus. The judges were unanimous in their praise of the undertaking sponsored by Newton Council emphasizing the educational value of such essay contests especially where historical facts are taken as a basis for original development by the high school students. Chairman Whiting says, "It has been a pleasure to read these papers written by boys and girls of high school age in Newton. Such contests are worth while. They stimulate young people to think, and to express their thoughts. The value of education is, I believe, the capacity to think which it develops in men and women. History is rich in thought-suggestion. To read history, to study it, and to understand the meaning of what has happened in this old world, is to prepare one's self for usefulness to civilization. Humanity marches towards the goal of perfection. Knowledge and wisdom help us onward. The foundation of our American civilization is education. It is an essential part of education to be able to apply knowledge and to develop wisdom. To acquire the ability of expression in words increases each individual's power for service to humanity. Such contests as this just completed are commendable as contributions to the ment Fund, but a check was turned in stronger for service to humanity. Such ontests as this just completed are ommendable as contributions to the inrichment of the mind of boys and firls. All of the papers submitted show careful thought and serious purpose. Those who have not won prizes have gained something well worth while, none the less."

Charles E. Coyne, Chairman of the Newton Council Committee in charge of the contest, was equally enthusiastic and said, "Not only the winners but all the high school essayists are to be congratulated upon their interest in the contest. We realize that it meant sacrifice of time and hard work. Their spirit is commendable. We are also grateful to the judges for the excellent spirit of co-operation, their willingness and attention in giving of their valuable time to make their deficiency of the continued on Page 4)

HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN

Active Work Being Done to Raise An Additional $350,000

Inrst campaign dinner neil at the Brae Burn Country Club last Friday evening, October 7th.

In several wards, notably in the two Newton units, the organization of the workers has been held up due to the out-of-town absence of several of the campaign leaders. Initial gifts reported amounted to $5,615. Several substantial gifts are in prospect and Henry J. Nichols, who acted as chairman at last Friday night's meeting, expressed the hope that these will be ready for announcement at the second report meeting which is being held Friday, October 14, at 6:30 p. m. at the Brae Burn Country Club.

E. J. Frost, a member of the campaign executive committee, stressed the importance of having subscribers increase their gifts one hundred percent. "Most of those who have already contributed I think are willing to do this," he said. "Our records show that a large majority of the smaller subscriptions have already been paid in full. People are now educated to give to the Newton Hospital, and they will see the wise necessity of making their new gifts now for by so doing, they will not only clinch about $133,500 in contingent gifts, but they will also assure the complete success of the campaign.

"We have until the end of October," Mr. Frost continued, "to complete the task that is before us, a very small task when compared to what we faced in starting out to raise $1,500,000 at the beginning of the campaign more than a year ago. We have done well. Now let us finish our work quickly and secure a fine new hospital that will take care of the needs of this rapidly growing community for years to come."

Wycliffe J. Spaulding, a member of the new building committee, explained to the new hospital that will take care of the needs of this rapidly growing community for years to come."

will take care of the needs of this rapidly growing community for years to come."

Wycliffe J. Spaulding, a member of the new building committee, explained that prices of rooms in the new building will be scaled so that every patient, regardless of wealth, will be cared for in a pleasant environment. The two top floors of the new building, he said, are to be used for maternity cases. Single rooms have been designed for those of moderate means as well as other rooms for patients who are able to pay more. The new building plans also call for a number of two and four-bed wards.

In the former campaign the Hospital Aid Association, of which Mrs. George H. Talbot is president, was among the first to make a subscription. In June 1926 this association opened the Newton Hospital Benefit Shop. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. Peter Clark, the Benefit Shop proved so successful that the shop not only subscribed $5,000 for the Newton Hospital Building and Equipment Fund, but a check was turned in for the full amount long before it was due.

The accompanying illustration shows the proposed development of Claffin Field and the Dickinson Memorial Stadium. Within a month or two bonds will be on sale in order to finance the construction of the stadium as was announced two weeks ago. These bonds of $100 denominations and available in fifths will bear no interest and will be retired by lot from increased gate receipts at the entire amount of $50,000 will be paid back each year so that within a limit of from fifteen to twenty-five years the stadium will have paid for itself. It is more than likely that the city in the future will provide sufficient funds to carry out the rest of the development on a par with its educational facilities on the site and the possibilities of which for many years have ranked among the highest in the country.

Newton Y. M. C. A. to Celebrate on Sunday

Next Sunday afternoon, October 16, 1927, is the Fiftieth Anniversary of a meeting held in Eliot Lower Hall where it was voted to organize a Young Men's Christian Association in Newton. Of that group D. Fletcher Barber, Renben Forknall, Charles and Edward Bacon are now living in Newton. All these men have been members and loyal supporters of the Y. M. C. A. for the past fifty years.

The first meeting of the Fellowship.

50TH ANNIVERSARY

C. A. for the past fifty years.

The first meeting of the Fellowship Club will be held on Monday evening, October 17th, at 6:39. Our speaker will be Dr. D. A. Davis, who since the war has given his life to the task of helping new and reorganized nations of Europe to build their social and religious institutions. Dr. Davis entered the Foreign Service of the Y. M. C. A. at Constantinople, during the Balkan Wars he served with the American Red Cross, and during the World War was Senior American Representative of the Y. M. C. A. in France.

Syracuse University has conferred the degree of L.H.D. upon Dr. Davis and while he was a student he was President of his class, President of the Student Body, President of the Y. M. C. A., stroke of three winning crews, and Captain of the crew in his senior year.

In the years of his service he has been decorated by many governments. There is probably no living American better able to interpret Europe to America in the terms of its need of the service which America can give than Dr. Davis. An invitation is extended to any man who would like to hear Dr. Davis to be present on next Monday evening, October 17th, at 7 o'clock.

The Benefit Shop is ready to help in your Fall housecleaning; ready to help turn into a bigger and better hospital your unused things; things that you spend strength and time in airing, re-sorting and re-packing every six months. There are children who can't go to school because their mothers have come time after time and have been unable to buy at the Benefit Shop the warm but worn clothes you might spare;—men who need decent suits in order to get jobs; suits that you carefully brush and put away in moth balls against the fishing or hunting trip that never occurs.

There are worn blankets or quilts or spreads that you never use, but that would keep somebody warm this winter—why store them away any longer?

Every dollar the shop earns means a dollar's worth of improvement for your hospital plus the help the goods have meant to some one who needed them. We can make this year a success if all Newton home makers and Newton merchants will help us by giving us the goods to sell.

One of the most important events to Newton Masons in recent years were the exercises at Masonic Tem-ple, October 7th, 1927. All mortgage indebtedness having been cleared away, the various Ma-sonic Bodies own their apartments sonic Bodies own their apartments free and clear, and the ceremony above referred to was to celebrate the burning of the mortgage.

At 6:30 a delightful banquet was served by Seiler, after which about 400 repaired to the Lodge room for the exercises of the evening.

The Concorde Quartet opened the program followed by introductory remarks by Chairman Fred M. Blanchard, who introduced Albert L. Harlwood of Newton Center, Chairman of the Cornerstone-Laying Committee in 1896, who gave a delightful history of the building of the Temple and the difficulties that were surmounted. He was followed by J. Harold Libbey who gave a history of the Newton Masonic Executive Council, the Committee who raised the money to pay off the mortgage; and then Joseph E. Masters, Treasurer of the holding body of the Temple since their incorporation.

Clifford B. Whitney followed with a resume of what had been done by the holding body of the Temple since their incorporation.

The important address of the evening followed given by Melvin Maynard Johnson, Past Grand Master of Masons in Massachusetts, While living in Waltham he took his Knight Templar degrees in Gethsemane Commandery. Mr. Johnson summarized what the fraternity were striving for and the satisfaction they were securing now, and would in the future, in a most eloquent and masterly talk, following which he was presented with a large bouquet of very beautiful Jack Roses.

The Concorde Quartet gave another selection, after which the mortgage note was read and placed in the hands of John W. Fisher and J. Cheever Fuller, two of the original Executive Committee of the Masonic Hall Association, and after a prayer by Rev. Percival M. Wood, the mortgage note was read and placed in the hands of John W. The committee feels that many will contribute smaller sums than twenty dollars but because of the large amount of bookkeeping these donations would entail if they were applied to the bond sale it was thought best to accept these as gifts and not divide the bonds into smaller parts than fifths.

GILLIGAN'S GOAL BEATS CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge kicked off and Newton immediately returned the punt. The Cantabs reeled off two first downs and then nine yards in three plays. With but a yard to go for another first down Morris fumbled on his 25-yard line. Cole recovered but it was Newton's ball on downs anyway and Cambridge's chance had passed. Bennett and Reardon engaged in a punting duel with the Newton punter having the advantage. Mullen got off several nice runbacks of punts and an end run for 32 yards. Near the close of the period Bennett kicked offside at the visitors' 20-yard line and Scheinfein nailed Hilliard for an 8 yard loss as the whistle blew.

The Dartmouth freshman team defeated the Caushing Academy team, 15 to 0, last Saturday at Hanover. The Cushing eleven is captained by "Buster" Hemeon, of Newton Lower Falls, and an end of the 1925 Newton high outfit. The Green yearlings had two former Newton high players in their lineup. Hal Andres was at centre, and Henry Johnson at fullback. Johnson scored one of his team's two touchdowns and also a goal after touchdown.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

The Newton Archers held a very successful shoot on Columbus Day. Twenty-eight men and seventeen women participated. As archers from all over New England were invited, Greenfield, New Bedford, Worcester, Mass., and Woonsocket, R. I., were some outlying places represented. Every bit of available space on and beside the Newton Centre Archery Range was in use. The field was in splendid shape and was well marked and roped off.

In the Metropolitan Round in the morning Dr. Crouch of Newton Centre was the winner, establishing a new record for this event. His total was 134 hits $10 score, two hits, and two points in score more than that made by W. H. Palmer of Wayne, Pa., at Rye, N. Y., May 39th. Mr. Dick of Worcester took second place with a total of 112 hits 656 score. Mrs. H. S. C. Cummings of Brookline took the lead among the ladies with a total of 111 hits 663 score. Mrs. S. C. Smith of Newton Centre took second place with a total of 104 hits, 602 score, Mrs. H. A. Bartholomaei of Waban was third with a total of 97 hits, 541 score.

TWO BAD MISPLAYS BEAT NEWTON 13-0

BEAT NEWTON 13-0

Before a crowd of over 5000 spectators, many of whom were turned away at the gate to seek places on the adjoining hillside in order to witness the game. Everett high school defeated Newton high 13 to 0 on the holiday afternoon. The scarlet clad Everett team thus kept its season record clean and has yet to be scored upon. Bad misplays on the part of Newton were responsible for both of the visitor scores which came in the second and third periods, otherwise the result should have been a scoreless tie. Newton had no real opportunity of score but played a fine defensive game with the exception of its two bad breaks. Everett did not display the smartness expected of it from advance reports and would be an easy victim of Medford if it put up the same brand of play. Two of its bright spots were several forward passes which were successfully completed for substantial gains and the playing of Atwood at left tackle. He was the outstanding player of Everett's eleven taking out his man and often two men on the same play. For Newton Gatchell played a fine game and in justice to him it should be said that on both of the plays which resulted in Everett touchdowns his passes were perfect. Mullen and Andres played well in the backfield, as did DiMott and Fisher for Everett.

Everett won the toss and chose to

First Quarter

Everett won the toss and chose to defend the south goal with a strong wind at their backs. Newton elected to receive. Following the kickoff the ball was never out of Newton territory in the entire period. On two occasions Andres, who did the punting in place of Bennett who will be out for several weeks, kicked from behind his goalline into the teeth of the wind. The wind held back the punts and the ball travelled only to the 25-yard stripe. Everett could make no headway through the Newton line, around its ends or on forward passes which the Newton backs succeeded in grounding.

Second Period

Second Period

Second Period

Newton, with the wind now at its back, kicked the ball into Everett territory and Everett shortly after returned the punt. MacIntyre, who replaced Mullen who suffered a slightly twisted ankle, on an 8-yard jaunt around end caught the punt on his 47-yard line. Gatchell's pass to Gilligan was deflected by one of the other Newton's backs and it bounded past tim. Paglucci, Everett sub-end, who had come into the game just previous to the play, scooped it up on Newton's 15-yard line and scored the first touchdown. Graffam missed the goal. A few plays later the half ended.

Third Period

Third Period

Third Period

Shortly after play was resumed Gilligan kicked to Fisher on his 40-yard line. The Everett quarterback sigmalled for a fair catch but Scheinfein folled to see it and dropped him in line. The Everett quarterback signalled for a fair catch but Scheinfein failed to see it and dropped him in his tracks. Newton drew a 15-yard penalty putting them back into their own territory. This was somewhat offset when Everett was penalized five yards for taking too much time in the huddle and on fourth down Graffam kicked over Newton's goalline. Gilligan got off a pretty punt with the wind which sailed over Fisher's head and rolled to Everett's 25-yard line. Everett made a first down. Later Atwood came back out of the line to kick to midfield. On the next play Gilligan fumbled and Digby picked the ball up and ran for the goalline. Andres brought him down on the 15-yard line with a nice diving tackle. A few plays later Fisher went over for the second touchdown. Graffam kicked the goal. Everett drew a penalty and kicked off from the 25-yard line. DiMott intercepted a long Newton forward and was tackled on his 44-yard line. The period ended after Atwood had punted to Newton's 25-yard line.

With four games of the 1927 season past history one wonders just what to make of the Newton eleven. Against St. Mary's and Cambridge they showed considerable football ability while against Medford and Everett there isn't much to say. In the two latter games Coach Sullivan's outfit displayed a good defense but there was practically no offense. Against Cambridge and St. Mary's the orange and black eleven outrushed their opponents as well as displaying a strong defense. Anyone who has followed the team at all this fall can readily see that Coach Sullivan has had a tough job on his hands to develop a good team out of the material he had to work with. He deserves credit for what success the team has achieved and cannot be blamed for its fallures. In one game the team will display the same stuff. One of the outstanding players on Newton's team in victory or defeat is Creighton Gatchell. In all four games he has played his opponent to a standstill. No other player has been more responsible for Newton's two victories and for keeping the score in the other two contests to two touchdowns. Defensively Newton's strength has been as good, if not better, than all four teams that have come to Claffin Field. This is one of the few bright spots there are. Scheinfein, Andres, Mullen, Bennett, Captain Cole and Harrington have played a good game most of the time. Before the Beverly game Stanley Brown and Frank Perry may be back in the lineup and the team may display a better offense.

Not much can be said for Everett in holiday's game either. Either the Everett team has been greatly overrated or they have gotten too confident. Reports have heralded them as one of the best schoolboy teams in the state but if they played against Newton there wouldn't be enough left of them to talk about. They were extremely fortunate that Wednesday's game did not result in a scoreless tie as it most assuredly would have but for Newton's two serious misplays. But the game is now history and the best thing for everyone to do, including players, is to forget it and prepare for the coming games. If scores of games are any criterion Newton has little to worry about in Rindge and Brookline. Not much has been heard of Somerville and Beverly. Somerville has a heavy outfit and held Salem to one touchdown. Cambridge lost to Salem by failing to kick the point after a touchdown, 6-7. The Somerville game should therefore be a toss-up. Beverly defeated Peabody 12 to 6 and Medford defeated the same team 19 to 0. This should be another toss-up. Lawrence, with perhaps the best team in the state, comes to Newton on Nov. 5th and seems destined to take home the bacon. Local fans will count the season a great success if the orange and black wins from all of its remaining opponents except Lawrence. That is easy to say but the te

HIGHLAND OIL COMPANY

Announces the Opening of Two New Stations This Week

HIGHLAND GAS and OIL are the products of one of the largest refining companies in the United States with assets of $600,000,000. The gas is of the highest quality guaranteed to give 100% satisfaction.

Major companies today are unwilling to sell their established brands at such sweeping price reductions as the present overproduction in the petroleum industry has brought about.

Highland Gas at our Stations is selling at 14 cts. per gallon. Because of this price sales cannot be made under the refiner's brand. This identical gas is being regularly sold at the filling stations of the refiners at 17 cents per gallon.

¶ These facts operate to your advantage every time you drive into our station. You are cordially invited to do so.

The resignation of Mr. John C. DeMille as an Alderman is a matter of deep regret to those who keep in touch with affairs at City Hall. Mr. DeMille is the type of man the city needs and he had already shown evidences that his election as an Alderman had justified the predictions of his friends. We hope that Mr. DeMille may, at some time in the future, be able to serve this city again.

follows: THE EFFECTS OF THE DISCOVERY OF AMERICA BY COLUMBUS ON MODERN CIVILIZATION

Stevenson has said that the work of no single individual is indispensable, but as we study the exploit of Columbus, pursuing his lonely journey prover an unknown sea, we are inclined to disagree with the statement of Stevenson. For the effects that followed from this achievement were so powerful that it marked a new era in the history of the world and changed the fate of nations. It was the dream of this young adventurer to find a shorter route to India. His trial trip over the western seas was a plece of real heroism because he was ready to risk his life and the fortunes of his friends upon his firm belief that the earth is round. His desperate undertaking, however, after a three months' passage over the tossing billows in his frail vessel brought him safely to the new found land. It was not India but the glittering shores of the Bahama Islands—the new world that

Mayor Childs recommended to the aldermen at their last meeting that $150,000 be made available through the authorization of a bond issue for the erection of a new school which will contain six rooms and storage accomodations in the basement for playground department; also provisions for the later addition of a wing containing four rooms.

The School Committee favors a much less costly building which will have only four rooms and cost but about $60,000. It was suggested at the meeting on Tuesday evening that a compromise be effected which would provide for a somewhat smaller structure than the Mayor recommended.

Appeal to Converts In the center of a Christian settle-ment in the jungle at Medak, Hydera-bad, India, stands a Christian church of the proportions of a cathedral. This is the central place of worship for the great community of Indian Christians, numbering over 50,000, who have gathered around Rev. C. W. Posnett, a Wesleyan missionary, as a result of his 30 years' work in this native state. The church was opened a year ago, but there seemed something lacking in its beautiful interior, despite the marbles and many tinted tiles. There was no stained glass in the windows. Six thousand Indian Christians have given the money for a window, designed by Frank O. Salisbury, a well-known British artist. The subject is the Ascension, and Mr. Salisbury says of the window: "The desire of the donors was that their church should be as beautiful as any Mohammedan mosque or Hindu tem-ple, and I trust that my work will help them to realize their ideal of beauty as an aid to worship."

Queen Victoria Story Some amusing stories concerning Queen Victoria are told by Sir Felix Semon in his autobiography. The queen had a great sense of dignity, but she also possessed a keen sense of humor. For instance, when Sir James Reid, her majesty's physician-in-ordi nary, became engaged to one of her naids of honor, the Hon. Miss Baring, he queen was exceedingly angry, and, ending for him, lectured him severely. He ought to have known, she told him, that nobody was permitted to propose to a maid of honor without obtaining the queen's permission. Sir James listened, then humbly answered that her majesty was quite right; he certainly would not do it again! This so strongly appealed to the queen's sense of humor that she laughed heart-ily, and without further ado extended

In Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales," the Merchant had upon his head "a Flaundrish biever hat." It seems that Flaundrish blever hat." Mr. Lawrence Bond, for many years a well known resident of West Newton, died last Saturday at his home on Elm street, after a long period of failing health. Mr. Bond was born in the Hawaiian Islands, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Bond. His parents brought him to Newton when nine years of age and he has made his home in the house in which he died for 64 years.

Mr. Bond graduated from Harvard

Mr. Bond graduated from Harvard University, studied law and estab-lished a successful law business in

He has always taken an active in-terest in public affairs and served as a member and as president of the for-mer Common Council of Newton and later was a member of the board of aldermen.

Mr. Bond was deeply interested in educational matters and after his service at City Hall was a member of the school committee for some years. He was also active in the affairs of the West Newton Unitarian Church and served on the Building Committee of the present church edifice and on the Music Committee.

He is survived by two sisters the Misses Alice W. and Mary W. Bond who made their home with him.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the West Newton Unitarian Church, and the minister, Rev. Paul S. Phelan, officiated. Mr. William Lester Bates was the organist. The body was cremated.

DEATH OF MRS. WHITTIER

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Whittier, the wid-w of the late Justin Whittier, died Sunday at a private sanitarium in this city after a long period of failing

Mrs. Whittier was born in Ipswich in 1854 the daughter of Joseph and Ablgail (Wise) Farlay. She married Mr. Whittier in the early seventies and made her home in Newton at that time. She was an active member of Channing Church, served as secretary of the District Nursing Association for many years, and was for 20 tion for many years, and was for 20 years secretary of the Social Science Club.

For some years Mrs. Whittier made her home at The Hollis.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the chapel at Newton Cemetery and Rev. Chester A. Drummond, minister at Channing Church, officiated.

DEATH OF WELL KNOWN LAWYER AUBURNDALE VILLAGE IMPROVE-

MENT SOCIETY

The annual meeting was held last Tuesday evening with Pres. Furbish presiding. After the secretary and treasurer's reports were read and accepted the following recommendations were made. That the square in Auburndale should be better lighted; also that we should have better street signs at the intersection of the main highways. That the Boston & Albany R. R. tracks, the two nearest the station, should be filled in solid; that the shrubbery between Nye Park and the station should be cleaned out or else an opening be made so that people on the station platform or on inbound trains could see the park. A petition has been presented asking that heavily loaded gravel trucks from Newton Lower Falls be restrained from using cutouts, and exceeding the speed limit demanded by law. Mr. George Fiske made some very interesting remarks upon the work the Auburndale Village Improvement Society was called upon to do in years gone by. The following officers were elected for this year: Pres., Ralph E. Keyes; Vice Presidents, H. D. Morse, Mr. Ernest Braithwaite and Mr. J. R. Fletcher; Sec., Mr. W. J. Spaulding; Treass, Dr. Chas. D. Ansley; Executive committee, Mr. H. W. Knowlton, Mr. J. Garland, Mr. W. S. Wagner, and Dr. E. W. Ufford

POLICE NEWS

Homer Washburn of West Roxbury Homer Washburn of West Roxbury was in the Newton court on Monday charged by Patrolman J. J. Green with reckless driving. Washburn's car had crashed into a motorcycle parked on Boylston street, Upper Falls. He was found not guilty, although the judge thought he had been driving at too great a speed; but as he had not been charged with speeding he could not be tried on this matter.

Ing ne could not be tried on this matter.

Saturday afternoon about 3 as a passenger train was passing by the Newton Centre depot, a stone was thrown 'through one of the windows narrowly missing a passenger. The police are investigating.

As Henry Mulligan of Tudor road, Chestnut Hill, was driving along Commonwealth avenue near College road on Sunday noon, a bullet whizzed by his face and tore through the windshield of his automobile. Chestnut Hill is rather a dangerous place to indulge in rifle practice.

—WILLIAM J. KENT

William J. Kent of 63 Clinton place, Newton Centre, died on Wednesday. He was born 74 years ago in Wexford, Ireland, and had resided in Newton for over 50 years. Mr. Kent entered the employ of the city in 1875, working as a freman in the Water Department when the water system was being installed throughout the city. In 1881 when the first steam-roller owned by the city of Newton was imported from England, Mr. Kent was assigned to it as operator. Some years later when the Street Department of the city obtained more mechanical equipment, Mr. Kent was made master-mechanic of the department, sand three daughters, Mrs. Jeremiah Madden, Mrs. Joseph Maloney and Miss Gertrude Kent, all of Newton. His funeral services were held this morning at the Church of the Sacred Heart in Newton Centre. Interment was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

HEAVY RAIN CAUSES DAMAGE

The downpour of rain yesterday morning turned many streets in the city into small lakes causing scores of automobiles to become stalled when their drivers attempted to travel through the water. A number of cel-lars were flooded, one of which was that in the business block at 556 to that in the business block at 556 to 564 Common wealth avenue. When this cellar started to get flooded, some person adopted the peculiar expedient of pulling Box 714 to bring the fire apparatus, thinking that the firemen would start to pump out the cellar. When Chief Randlett found out that his men had been summoned to put out water rather than a fire, he ordered the apparatus back to its quarters.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Luchini, 27 Thornton street, Newton, a reception was held on Tuesday eve-ning in honor of Mrs. Luchini's sister, Miss Theresa Galliano, and her fiance Mr. Albert Marchione of Newtonville, Mr. Albert Marchione of Newtonville, whose engagement was announced. ARTICLE No. 24

ARTICLE No. 24

Suppose the dealer bids a suit, your partner doubles and third hand pases, do you thoroughly understand what is expected of you? You will probably say: "Of course I do. I should bid my long suit or no-trump if I have a double stopper in the suit bid." That is correct in theory, but for some reason seems difficult for practical application. Time and again, you will see players bid one no-trump with only a single stopper in the suit bid, in preference to bidding their long suit. In the preceding article, a hand was given as an illustration of this principle and the rule was laid down: "Never bid no-trump after your Fart"."

A's hand was as follows:

Hearts — K, 10, 5
Clubs — A, J, 10, 8
Diamonds — Q, J, 9, 7, 2
Spades — 5
In the play of a diamond bid, A-B would only have lost one heart and one club trick. This hand is an excellent example of the reward of sound bidding and the penalty of unsound bidding. Don't make a mistake similar to B's. Let your bidding besound at all times and the results will amply compensate you.

Here is an interesting hand that warecently played at one of the well known New York Clubs: this principle and the rule was laid down:
"Never bid no-trump after your partner has made an informatory double unless you have a double stopper in the suit doubled." This principle should be and probably is generally understood, but the following hand is an illustration of how players fail to follow it in practice:

Hearts — O. 4

Hearts — A, K, 10, 9, 7 Clubs — Δ, Q, 6 Diamonds — Q, 10, 9, 5 Spades — 6

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one spade, A doubled and Y passed. B, of course, should have bid two diamonds because he only had a single stopper in the spade suit but he was one of those players who thinks the only trump. All passed and B's no-trump. All passed and B's no-trump hid was defeated by one trick. If B had made the proper bid of two diamonds, article. Answer to Problem No. 27

If hearts are trumps and Z is in the lead, how can Y-Z so play the hand that they can win all the tricks against any defense? Z should play the jack of clubs. A plays the deuce, Y should play the eight of clubs by Y is obligatory. In no other way can the problem be solved. Z should then lead the four of spades, trumping in Y's hand with the king of hearts. P should now lead the ace of hearts, B's best discard is the eight of diamonds, He cannot the card a club for if he does all of Z's clubs are good. Z should discard the queen of diamonds. A is now up against a forced discard the eight of clubs are good. The must keep both diamonds will be good. If e must, therefore, discard either the mine of spades or the nine of clubs.

POLICE NEWS

More complaints have been received from officials of the Boston & Albany railroad because of boys throwing stones from bridges at passenger trains. The latest offences occurred on the bridges at Washington and Saint James streets at Newton Corner. Antonio Pacopio of Border street, West Newton, was bitten on Wednesday by a dog owned by Michael Farind of Murphy Court, Newton. Dr. Boutelle was notified to examine the animal.

Sebastiano Gorgone of Cherry street, West Newton, was in court on Tuesday charged by Harvey Schaschke with taking stone off his land in Walter Cherry Stone of the ston ban. The case was continued until October 25 on Gorgone's promise that he would pay for the stones taken. William Polito, formerly of Hull, who married a Cambridge young woman several years ago, and who later married Micra Lillian Marchiona of William Polito, formerly of Hull, who married a Cambridge young woman several years ago, and who later married Miss Lillian Marchione of Newtonville, was found guilty of bigamy by Judge Dillon in the Superior Court at Cambridge on Monday and sentenced to serve from three to five years. Each of the young women had a child by Polito.

Walter Morse of 239 Washington Street, Newton, was in the Newton court yesterday charged with driving away after hitting a person without making himself known. The case was continued until October 21st.

The Frank A. Day junior high school was again burglarized one night last week, ransacked, and $77 in savings besides property belonging to teachers and pupils stolen. A pupil's typewiter and tools, the property of the city were also taken.

AUBURNDALE CLUB

At the first regular meeting of the club held Wednesday evening, October 12th, the members were treated to a very fine program after the business meeting by the well known entertainer and magician, J. deVere Simmons.

The attendance was somewhat limited owing to the holiday and it was the consensus of opinion among those present that it was unfortunate the rest of the members could not enjoy such a splendid performance as Mr. Simmons rendered. Everyone hoped that the club could secure a repetition of the program at a later date. The entertainment was staged by Theodore W. Dearborn.

Bowling, pool, billiards and cards were enjoyed later in the evening.

Miss Myrtle Steele of the City Clerk's office is enjoying a motor tour through New York and New Jersey. City Physician Fred Lowe and Ernest Harvey of the City Engineer's Department are entertaining their friends with accounts of their recent automobile trip to Yellowstone Park.

Tonsilitis seems to be prevalent among a number of the City Hall employees.

MICHAEL QUINN

Michael Quinn of 143 Bridge treet, Nonantum died on Sunday in his 60th year. He was employed as a foreman by T. Stuart & Sons and is survived by his widow, three sons and a daughter. His funeral was held on Tuesday and interment was in Cal-vary Cemetery.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

O, telephonic maiden,
How sweet to hear your voice,
Your speech on all occasions
Was ever soft and choice;
And now you've added, "Thank you!"
More courtesy to show,
It thrills my heart to hear you,
If you could only know!
No matter what the temper
Of those who make a call,
In gentlest tones you answer,
"Thank you," to one and all;
Maybe they speak in whispers,
Or yell with all their might,
In foreign tongue address you,
Or with their lips closed tight;
I don't know how you do it,
And yet you understand,
Replying with a "Thank you,"
Most gracious and most bland;
So little praise is offered
To you for all your good,
I'd like to say I'm grateful
And show it if I could;
But words I must depend upon,
I'm handicapped, you see,
And so, may I say, "Thank you
So much," for thanking me.

No sooner does one trouble pass than another lights on our head. This time it is a grey, soft felt hat. It may be truly said it was put there by the owner and no blame whatever attaches to the hat. It wouldn't make such a difference if it were not a new hat—successor to the straw with which the owner's head was defended from the burning rays of the sun during the few moments the sun shone this past summer.

successor to the straw with which the burning rays of the sun during the few moments the sun shone this past summer.

I had some things to say about the unhappiness associated with the wearing of a straw hat. I wish now to state that it is as nothing-minus compared with the new lid. Here is a beautiful creation of the hatter's artify you don't believe it I can show you the maker's name—and its proportions are perfect and its lines graceful. It has only one crease and that is in the center. The rim is without binding and has a bending curve like the upper portion of a soup-plate.

Now anybody will admit that such a deleate bit of headgear must be carefully cherished in order that its charm remain intact. If it strikes anything violently or forcefully it loses its shape and gets a sort of knocked-about look. One must be constantly on guard to preserve this marvel of a hat.

Therefore, I hereby take issue withmy colleague, Mr. Powers, who wants the window-shades returned to their places in the Boston Elevated cars. submit priority of claim for I ride on the Elevated much more frequently than Mr. Powers. Not only do I insist that the window-shades be not restored to such cars as may be without them, but that they be removed from all cars and along with them the chewing-gum boxes, the push-button and other implements of service or amuse-ment with which the Elevated cars are equipped. I even ask that the straps be taken down and passengers obliged to cling to one another or the backs of the seats. All these imperments are equipped. I even ask that the straps be taken down and passengers obliged to cling to one another or the backs of the seats. All these imperments are equipped to last until next Easser. Uless I go bareheaded this winter, however, I shall not have much of a bonnet by next spring.

The other night I talked with a man who I believed had a real grievance. The worst of it was to could be reformed the ceremony.

The other night I talked with a man The other night I talked with a man who I believed had a real grievance. The worst of it was he could see nothing that could be done about it. The law doesn't help him and when a man has no opportunity to seek redress in the courts he is somewhat up against

This man, the owner of an estate around which a combination stone and wooden fence is constructed, waked up one morning recently to find that an automobile had crashed through the fence and damaged it to the extent of somewhere in the vicinity of $100. The car, apparently, was still in condition to be driven, for its driver made off. No number taken, therefore no investigation and no arrest and no settlement for damage done.

Clearly this land-owner had been the victim of malicious mischief and nature.

Clearly this land-owner had been the victim of malicious mischief and naturally was considerably angered. He said it was an outrage that he should have to foot the bills of this act of vandalism, and it does seem as if he had a sound argument.

"The owner of cattle or poultry," said he, "is paid by the county if his stock is killed or injured by dogs, and he doesn't have to prove anything more than the actual killing or injury. The county doesn't expect him to locate the dogs or their owners. Why should I have to stand this expense—it is no way my fault? Why shouldn't there be a State fund, taken from the money received for automobile licenses or taxes, to provide for such instances as mine?"

He added that he had heard of a should you happen to spring something like, "What has been your experience with roadside stands?" you are certain to get at least two replies. Somebody will say, "Wonderful, we are able to get fresh vegetables right out of the garden." And then somebody else will say, "Rotten! I never buy from roadside stands; they charge more than you pay at the store and the stuff isn't any better." Hooray! What a fine chance for a red-hot dispute.

Much to my surprise I learned of a man who buys of roadside stands in a scientific fashion. He isn't a scientist but he takes the matter very seriously. I give him credit as a student of buying and suggest that he be called upon to give public talks on the subject. He takes his car out every Saturday afternoon for a tour of the country-side. Although he covers many miles and his otherwise neat runabout looks like a Greek peddler's wagon before he gets through, he manages to prove his theory. He picks out one stand his theory.

for corn, another for tomatoes, a third—it may be 10 miles distant—for potatoes and still another for carrots and so on. At one he purchases cider and apples only, despite the fact they have everything else to sell from the garden. He not only knows his stuff but he knows their stuff, and that is a combination that is indeed hard to beat.

ne knows their stun, and that is a combination that is indeed hard to beat.

The idea that buying from a road-side stand is merely incidental to a pleasant afternoon's ride is not in his mind. He is shopping by car and that's far more important than mere recreation. Furthermore, it means plenty of fresh air as well as fresh vegetables.

Of course, he may not win on the investment when he counts up the mileage costs, gasoline, wear and tear, etc., but then as long as he demonstrates the wisdom of his theory to his own satisfaction, isn't it worth while? Remember, I am asking the question, not answering it. If you should inquire of me and insist on a reply, I should have to say "Yes and no and maybe neither."

As a means of fire prevention we are admonished, and properly, too, against the careless throwing of matches. This is but one thing to be guarded against. It suggests and no doubt means the tossing of lighted matches among inflammable material such as the contents of a waste-basket or other receptacles of a similar character. Woodland fires, of course, are included and stressed.

stock is killed or injured by dogs, and he doesn't have to prove anything more than the actual killing or injury. The county doesn't expect him to locate the dogs or their owners. Why should I have to stand this expense it is no way my fault? Why shouldn't there be a State fund, taken from the money received for automobile licenses or taxes, to provide for such instances as mine?"

He added that he had heard of a number of similar cases where fences, gate-posts and other parts of property had been smashed and no knowledge of the perpetrator obtained. "It's an injustice," this man declared, and I am not sure he isn't right.

Should you happen to spring the standard of the perpetrator obtained. "It's an injustice," this man declared, and I am not sure he isn't right.

In these days of automobiles, residents of Newton will be able to satisfy that oldest craving of mankind—the gambler's instinct for a prize or bargain—in attending the Rummage Sale to be given by the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club for the benefit of Club funds on Saturday, October 15, at Forester's Hall. The choice of days was also appropriate for this satisfying, for men as well as women will be able to avail themselves of the able to avail themselves of the opportunity opportunity.

The Club members are anticipating with much pleasure the coming of Hazel Wentworth Monroe, when, at the meeting of October 17, at 7:30 p. m., following the business meeting in Emerson School Hall, she will read "Pomander Walk." Those familiar with the play know it is one of the most delightful of comedies.

Auburndale Review Club

The next meeting of the Auburndale Review Club will be held on Tuesday, at 10 o'clock, October 18, with more papers on Italian Literature; these to be given at this program by Miss Jessie MacMillan, Mrs. Charles Kattelle, and Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger. Mrs. H. H. Longfellow of 35 Grove street will be the hostess for this meeting.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Matters of political and scientific interest will be temporarily laid aside when the members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club meet Tuesday, October 18, in favor of studying the prevailing decrees of Dame Fashion. Two of the members, Mrs. Jessie Palmer Graham and Mrs. Albert H. Norton, are to stage a "Fashion Show" at that time, and with the co-operation of C. Crawford Hollidge will present the very latest in gowns and wraps for milady's attendance at formal and informal events of the day. The costumes will be displayed on living models from the Boston store, and during the program there is to be music by Mrs. Lucy Simonds.

The same afternoon, the Philanthropic Committee, under the direction of its most efficient chairman, Mrs. G. G. Sherman, is to conduct the first of a series of four food sales, following the precedent established last year, when the experiment of spreading the effort over four different days, instead of concentrating on one big effort, proved popular.

Mrs. Robert S. Ingram and members of the Conservation Committee are arranging for a timely lecture on "Bulbs" to be given by Miss Elizabeth Jones in the Workshop, Friday morning, October 21, at 10 o'clock. The lecture is the first of a series of two, the second one to be given early in the new year and will pertain to rock gardens.

The Furniture Class is under way, with its next meeting scheduled for October 19.

The Workshop, during the brief period it has been opened, is daily demonstrating its usefulness with the endless round of directors' meetings, committees and classes, alternating with various social affairs. A most successful bridge party was given there last week under the direction of Mrs. Robert Bonner, the proceeds being turned over to the building fund.

Dances given under the auspices of the Newton Circle had been a great success, also that many women and children had been given a much deserved rest and outing through the help of their Vacation Fund.

It is so often borne in upon on-that the most worthwhile things of life can be spoken of in so few words, while many of the really less important matters seem to be broadcast in endless verbiage. A case in point is the above mention of the good accomplished to so many thankful hearts in pleasurable, restful vacations, in listening to good music and in the Bazaar that should bring many dollars to make possible similar longed-for gifts in the coming year.

Members and friends of Newton Circle are once more reminded of their opportunity to give in fancy or practical articles for the Bazaar or in money, if they prefer—an opportunity that the above report shows to be one that all kindhearted friends will welcome. The Newtonville Woman's Club has a pleasant custom of beginning its Club season in a reception at the home of one of its officers, previous to the regular meetings at Congregational Church, with their business and program. This year Mrs. Edwin P. Crawe, a former vice-president, opens her home, at 12 Dexter road, on Tuesday, October 18, when new members will be presented to the Club officers and introduced to fellow members by their sponsors. Mrs. J. Porter Russell, president of the Newton Federation, will also be a special guest.

LAW OBSERVANCE. It is appropriate, since the Fall meeting will, in all probability, touch upon this subject, as attendant upon other legislative matters, to quote what Mrs. Robert J. Culbert, chairman of the State Division of Law Observance, has to say upon one measure that, endorsed by the Federation, became law:

"Let us see to it that our city or town is observing the new Roadhouse Law. Let us sertech our arm of protection about our youth as he motors miles away from home to some innor roadhouse, in search of food, music, dancing, galety.

"The Roadhouse Law, which was passed in 1926, requiring all roadhouses to be licensed, thus assuring us of properly conducted roadhouses, should be observed and enforced. Will you help us to do this?

"As motorists the physical aspect of the roadhouse is familiar to you. It is seen everywhere,—the large, obvious establishment with its electric signs and orchestra; the small roadside stand with its player piano, victoria or radio. On the surface, they appear to be places for wholesome amusement and refreshment. Many of them, however, are gambling dens, hous MANUAL ON HOME EQUIPMENT. Clubwomen will be interested to read a unique handbook, a manual to which the American housewife, the homemaker, and her business partner, the American husband, can turn for unbiased information on the question of home equipment fundamentals and how to acquire them being prepared by the General Federation of Women's Clubs as a result of its recent nation-wide surveys in which two-thirds of farm homes and 16 per cent of urban homes were found without even the sanitary essential of running water at the kitchen sink. This manual will be used in connection with the follow-up campaigns now being inaugurated in various states under the auspices of the General Federation to raise the level of home equipment and lift from the backs of the woman in the home drudging methods, in many cases, generations old.

In its plan the book begins with the simplest working units and leads up progressively and with a thought to avoiding un-economic replacements until complete lighting, heating, cooking, sanitary and labor-saving plants have been discussed.

In the matter of running water, the manual first discusses the simple kitchen drain, or sink; then the water source, pump or well; next the windmill, motor or engine; the piping of the house and the running of water to the kitchen sink, and lastly in turn the flush toilet, the bath tub, the wash (Continued on Page 14)

Two years ago Rev. Joseph C. McDonald became pastor of the church, which has had a steady increase in membership till now it has on its rolls about 300. Dr. W. J. Jameson of Manepay, Ceylon, has been adopted by the Union Church as minister abroad.

On Sept. 30 an open house and organ recital by William Zeuch of Boston brought out a large number of Waban people who were interested to inspect the whole edifice.

It was a happy occasion for the loyal parishioners who have been and still are working so hard in its interest. The church will be formally rededicated on Sunday, Oct. 16. NEWTON

Waban Church Dedicated Fifteen Years Ago Last Month

On Sept. 17, 1912—just 15 years ago—the Union Church in Waban was dedicated, having been built largely through the activity of its pastor, Dr. Andrew W. Archibald. Its membership at that time included 83 people. Two months later the Rev. Charles H. Cutter took over the pastorate and during the 12 years of his stay in Waban the Union Church had a steady, normal growth, commensurate with the growth of the village.

Although it was only on special occasions that the auditorium of the church was crowded to capacity, it became apparent several years ago that the church school had outgrown its quarters. The superintendent, Mr. A. L. Stephen, eloquently presented its needs and often it had been found necessary for a whole year for the school to meet in thad been found necessary for a whole year for the school to meet in thad been found necessary for a whole year for the school to meet in thad been found necessary for a whole year for the school to meet in thad been found necessary for a whole year for the school to meet in thad been found necessary for a whole year for the school to meet in thad been found necessary for a whole year for the school of meet in thad been found necessary for a whole year for the school of meet in thad been found necessary for a whole year for the school of meet in thad been found necessary for a whole year for the proper of the development of the proper of the

"You will be interested in knowing that the reief work following the St. Louis cornado of Sept. 29, 1927, will be handled by our St. Louis Chapter with the national organization acting in any advisory capacity. A Red Cross relief fund of $500,000 is being raised in the city of St. Louis and at the present time no outside contributions will be solicited. However, any voluntary donations for the tornado sufferers that may be received by your Chapter should be forwarded to this office, from where they will be transmitted to our St. Louis Chapter. The national headquarters of the American Red Cross is donating $25,000 to the relief fund.

Mr. Bruce was emphatic in his statement that boys are idealists and are harmed or helped by their environment. It has been the custom of parents to say "Don't" until the boy feels himself behind a fence with "Don't" on every picket. Scouting emphasizes the other side by saying "Do" this or "Do" that. With the great changes which have come over the American home, Mr. Bruce believed that scouting would find its place in boy development. He called attention to the scout oath by which the boy holds himself to be "physically strong, mentally active and morally straight." Mr. Bruce looked for great success in Newton where there were now 439 enrolled scouts and nearly as many others directly interested in the work as scout masters, councillors and examiners.

According to the latest figures, 89 persons were killed, more than 600 injured, and 5,500 homes and business buildings were destroyed or damaged. Since the tornado struck in the heart of one of our largest cities, we can readily realize the grave nature of this calamity.

W. N. COMMUNITY CENTRE

Newton captured its share of prizes at the recent Fall Conclave of the 31st district held last week at Poland Spring. On Monday, Newton had charge of the luncheon and furnished a fine accordianist and some good singing. Mrs. I. C. Paul won the low net prize in the ladies gold handicap. Mrs. B. G. Rae won third prize in the ladies driving contest. Mr. Rae won first in the men's handicap. Mrs. T. L. Goodwin won the prize at bridge, Dr. C. W. Clark won first prize in the masquerade ball for men and Mrs. Rae won first place for the ladies. W. N. COMMUNITY CENTRE

How many of us realize that in one of our villages there is an organization operating on the plan of supplementing, but in no way duplicating, the work of any other organization in the city? The West Newton Community Centre, Inc., with its headquarters at the Davis School, West Newton, is endeavoring to plan activities that will care for the leisure time of the boys and girls in the Peirce School District.

The Fall and Winter program of the Centre opened on Monday, October 3, when the Golden Rule Club had its first meeting of the season. Other clubs which meet the first week are The Star Club, The Cheer Club, The Vim Club, and the Wide Awake Club. The members of each club will plan their own program with the help of the Director.

Perhaps the best-known activity of the Centre is its Pre-Kindergarten School, which opened on Wednesday, October 5, at the new Memorial Library. The kindergarten will be supervised by Miss Margaret Noble of the Wheelock Kindergarten School.

It would doubtless be of interest of the clitzens of Newton to know that Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collens of budley road, Newton Centre, have nnounced the engagement of their aughter, Miss Margaret Lyman ollens to Leopold Gruener, son of tr. and Mrs. Edward O. Gruener of

After graduating from the Winsor school in 1922 Miss Collens entered Vassar College. She has lately been devoting her time to the study of music in Boston and at the Conservatoire Americain at Fontainebleau, France. She is a member of the Vincent Club and the Junior League.

Mr. Gruener was graduated from Phillips-Andover Academy and from Yale in the class of 1919. He served with the Field Artillery during the war and is now established in business in Boston.

The wedding will take place in the early spring.

It would doubtless be of interest of It would doubtless be of interest of the citizens of Newton to know that this Pre-Kindergarten School is one of the pioneer schools in this line. Just after the war, two Belgian girls, who had come to America to make a special study of Nursery Schools, made a special trip from New York to visit and observe our school because it was said to be one of the best in the country. We are endeavoring to maintain the same high standard of work that prevailed at that time. Graphic Ads Give Best Results Persons whose automobiles have been damaged through the careless-ness of city employees will sympathize with Mr. C. H. Belledeu of West Newton, whose claim for damages was refused by the aldermen on last Monday. According to Mr. Belledeu, his automobile was damaged when, as he started to drive by a city truck, the driver of the truck, without signalling, suddenly veered the big vehicle over and hit the Belledeu car. We had a narrow escape recently under similar circumstances. If the city is not liable for damages caused by negligent employees, the employees should at least be compelled to exercise care while operating trucks. In the opinion of many, cities, like private corporations, should be liable for damages caused by careless employees.

The other day we invavage to Bos.

less employees.

The other day we journeyed to Boston on a car of the Boston Elevated. It was a hot day; we had to sit on the sunny side of the car; there were no shades on the windows to afford protection from the glare of the sun. But there was one compensating feature. When the car left the terminal at Watertown most of the windows were closed. Fortunately, the conductor in charge of it was a veteran who showed consideration for the passengers. He went the length of the car opening windows for those who wished them opened; and it is no easy task to open some of these windows. Although the management of the Boston Elevated may be lacking in consideration for the comfort of its patrons, persons who must ride in the "solariums" operated by that corporation are fortunate that railway company has employees as obliging as Conductor No. 336.

We would suggest to Mr. L. D. G. Bentley that he wear a beret instead of the chapeau with the half-mile track around it. Then he will not be bothered by gum machines, window shades and push buttons while riding in the Elevated cars.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Colored Man Crushed to Death by Trailer

Charles Brown, colored, of Turnpike road, Saugus, was the victim of a horrible accident at West Newton yesterday morning about 19:15. Brown, who was about 35 years of age and a man of huge physique, was steering a giant trailer on which was a steam shovel. Going through West Newton he left the trailer and went into a drug store to purchase a cigar. Hastening after the trailer, which was being towed by a truck, Brown attempted to climb onto the tongue which connected the truck to the trailer. He missed his footing and was dragged by the huge left front wheel of the trailer for some distance before the wheel finally passed over him. His left leg from the hip down was completely ground, and his abdomen badly mangled. The trailer and its load weighed over 25 tons.

A witness to the accident yelled to Harold Holland of Malden, who was operating the towing truck, and he stopped the machine. Police headquarters nearby was notified and the ambulance rushed to the scene. Mechanic Bart Cullen and Patrolman Timothy Riley crawled under the trailer and dragged Brown out. Despite his terrible injuries he had retained consciousness and lived for nearly two hours after being rushed to the Newton Hospital. He was married. The trailer was owned by M. McDonough of Swampscott.

Many lodge delegates from this jurisdiction will be present, and the honor guests of the evening will be G. M. W. Andrew, J. Carlin and Hon. Edwin O. Childs. Following the meeting there will be music and dancing and refreshments will be served.

"HAY FEVER"

A delightful entertaining comedy, "Hay Fever," a play in three acts by Noel Coward, was givea by the Entertainment Committee of the Church of the New Jerusalem last evening.

The cast included Eleanor Warren, David Clark, Eleanor Peebles, Elizabeth Stevens, R. Lawrence Capon, Ray Swain, Eleanor Merrill, Donald Charleton, Fay Merrill.

This play, which is one of a number to be given during the coming season, had as its purpose the raising of funds to defray the expenses of producing other entertainments, admission to which will be free. The comedy was given very creditably and was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience.

Tuesday evening at 6:05 at the corner of Washington and Eddy streets. West Newton, an automobile operated by Chester Cummings of 41 Wedgewood road hit Mary Cunniff, 19, of 33 Parsons street. Miss Cunniff was badly bruised. She was taken to her home by Cummings.

WABAN BUS LINE

Charter Objection Prevents Action to Reduce Service From Half-Hourly to Hourly Time

At the meeting of the aldermen on Monday night the Franchise and Lisense Committee brought in a unanimous report aproving the change of schedule of the buses running from Newton Corner to Waban as submitted by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Comany. By this change the buses, which have been running on a haif-hour schedule, would run once an hour. This line has not been well patronized since its institution last Spring, and the M. & B. has been losing considerable money on it. Even with the hourly schedule it will not be expected to pay, but the loss will be much smaller.

Alderman Heathcote asserted that force by this company if the present schedule is continued for two weeks more, and that the aldermen who were in favor of allowing the less frequent schedule being put into effect, are not familiar with the growth of the district served by this bus line.

Alderman Heathcote, who had opposed this change at a previous meeting of the aldermen, again protested against the new schedule being put into effect until figures shall have been obtained from the M. & B. showing whether or not, the receipts on this line have increased during September and October over the preceding four months. He asked Chairman Hawkins of the Transportation Comthis line have increased during September and October over the preceding four months. He asked Chairman Hawkins of the Transportation Committee of the aldermen if he had any figures from the M. & B. giving the receipts of the Waban line for the period from September 1 to October 15. When he received a negative reply, he asked that action on this matter be postponed for two weeks, until the next aldermanic meeting, in order to allow the figures to be procured from the company. The Ward 4 alderman stated "that he is satisfied that the buses to Waban are being better patronized since the people returned to this city from their summer homes, and that if the schedule is changed, it will be difficult to have the more frequent trips restored." He cited the less frequent schedule on the Newton-Framingham line as an example. During the war the cars on this line were changed on a half-hour schedule from a twenty minute schedule, and the old schedule has never been resumed.

Alderman Hawkins stated that the matter of this change, is the Walance in the chedule has never been resumed.

Alderman Hawkins stated that the atter of this change in the Waban has schedule has been before the altermen at several meetings, and that the will be next to impossible to make his line pay on a half-hour schedule. In reply to a question from Alderman Collins, he stated that no petition has been received from Waban residents opposing the change of schedule.

Alderman Bail, speaking at Ward 5 representative said "that he had heard no protests against the change from Vaban or Newton Highlands residents, so it seems that they are satisfied to have the change made." Alderman Holorook of Waban stated that the executive committee of the Waban Improvement Association had, at a meeting held a few days before, decided that the change in the schedule will be fair to Waban residents and to the M. & B. Alderman Pratt said "that the people of Newton Centre, with whom he had spoken, are of a like opinion." Alderman Bail, speaking at Ward presentative said "that he had hear whom he had spoken, are of a like spinion."

Alderman Hodgdon asked City Societor Bartlett, "If the Middlesex & 3oston cannot keep the half-hour chedule, can we throw this route open o others for the operation of buses?"

Ir. Bartlett replied "that the Rules and Regulations of the Board provide or the schedule. The contract has othing to do with it." Alderman Hodgdon and Mrs. J. Porter Russell.

schedule. I believe it must be a part of the contract."

Alderman Heathcote asserted that he M. & B. seems anxious to rush matters, that no serious loss will be suffered by this company if the present schedule is continued for two weeks more, and that the aldermen who were in favor of allowing the less frequent schedule being put into effect, are not familiar with the growth of the district served by this bus Hne.

Alderman Hodgdon asked City Solicitor Bartlett, "Does Section 11 of the City Charter apply to this report?" This section reads, "Any ordinance, order or resolution of the Board of Aldermen may be passed through all its stages of legislation at one session, provided no member of said Board objects thereto; but if one or more members object, the measure shall be postponed for that meeting." Mr. Bartlett gave the opinion that the section did apply: where-upon Mr. Hodgdon raised a charter objection against the report being accepted at that meeting. President Weeks declared a recess, and following a conference with Mr. Bartlett, he announced that Mr. Hodgdon's charter objection was well taken.

So action on the Waban buses was postponed until either October 24th, or November 7th. In the meantime the buses will continue on the half-hour schedule.

PAUL POIRET IN NEWTON

Some of the latest Paris gowns will be shown at the fashion display and lecture to be given by Paul Poiret, under the auspices of the Newton Y. W. C. A., at the Newton High School Auditorium on Wednesday, Oct. 26, at 2:30. Mrs. Henry I, Harriman and Mrs. Louis S. Drake are securing the list of patronesses, which is made up of many of the prominent women in Newton and the neighboring towns.

M. Paul Poiret tells why a couturier is needed. "It is the woman of individuality and the one who studies-her own individuality that makes the grand couturier necessary in the world of fashion. General recommendations for dressing women who wish to express the personal clothes they possess are impossible. I always try to think out a particular color scheme for each woman who comes to me; one which she may follow for many seasons." M. Poiret decries the tendency of older women to seek somber shades, and he has many suggestions to offer to women of all complexions and of all ages.

Further information can be observed.

Brookline First Team Wins
Although Brookline high was on the long end of a 7 to 6 score Saturday morning in its game with Country Day school its first string team was outplayed and outrushed in practically every department of the game. Country Day was originally scheduled to meet the Lawrence Academy team of Groton but on account of two cases of infantile paralysis at that school the game was called off and the game with the Suburban league outfit arranged. Captain Bigelow and Crosby Greene were the outstanding stars of the game, both the private school players getting away time and time again for goodly gains off tackle and around the ends. Country Day also completed several forward passes for lengthy gains, Frequent fumbles by the offensive team in its opponents' territory prevented larger scores on the part of both teams.

team in its opponents' territory prevented larger scores on the part of both teams.

Brookline scored midway of the second period following a march from the Country Day 35-yard stripe, capped by a pass from Rollins to Ryan for the final five yards. Cannon made the extra point on a five yard rush through the centre of the line. In the final period Country Day came within an ace of knotting the count. Bigelow ran back Ryan's punt to the enemy's 40-yard line. He followed this with another 10-yard end run and Greene reached the 4-yard line on a 26-yard dash around the right end. Bigelow carried the ball over on an offtackle play. Wilbor missed the tying point.

On the holiday Beverly defeated Peabody by a 12 to 6 secre, while on the Saturday previous the Peabody team had been defeated 1, 19 to 0 by Medford, which won over Newton 13 to 0. Defensively Newton on paper is far stronger than either Peabody or Danvers and should have little trouble form the Newton goal line. Whether Newton is strong enough on the offence to score against Beverly is the main question. In the last week, or soffence was lacking. Coach Sullivan and his assistants have worked hard with the Newton backs with encouraging results. During a long and hard scrimmage on Tuesday the local boys showed the best they have this season. The return of Frank Perry and Stanley Brown to eligibility has helped the metallic ring of which can be heard learly and in addition has the confidence of his teammates, which counts for more than a little. Clark, the old Newton quarterback ran his team with remarkable judgment, and at the same time played a stellar game at safety man, for the intercepted passes, and also ran back punts for good gains. Johnson, playing defensive full back teamed with Andres, the other Newton man in making all the tackles. They were always filling the holes as the Ohio team came through, and were responsible for the stubborn defense of the Yearlings. Johnson also was hoisting long spirals down the field that averaged some fifty yards and had plenty of height.

EDITORIAL

The attendance at the recent hearings given by the Commission of Election Laws indicates that there is some interest in the matter, although it was made evident that there are many and varied ideas of meeting the situation. With many years of practical experience in election matters and some years as a member of the Election Laws Committee of the Legislature, we are convinced that the indifference of the average voter to the importance of the primary is a chronic situation and one which cannot be wholly eradicated. The people will take an occasional interest in the randidacy of such men as Coolidge or Fuller but it is short lived and cannot be regarded as a step in advance. Education is, of course, the ultimate solution, but by the time you have one generation educated, another 13 coming along with the same old indifference and the work must be done all over again.

There are two ways in which the situation may be improved. First by making the primary more convenient to the voters by extending the time the polls are open and by changing the date of the primary is comparable. The present date of the primary early in September, comes too close to Labor Day—comes at a time when many persons are still at their summer homes and necessitates a campaign by primary candidates during the primary in June, more people are at home, the primary campaign comes in months when people are liable to be more interested in politics and in many ways would be more convenient. The second way to increase the interest.

in months when people are liable to be more interested in politics and in many ways would be more convenient. The second way to increase the interest in the primary is to establish the Short ballot. This would mean that only the more important officers would be nominated at the primary and consequently there would be more direct interest taken in their candidacy. It would also eliminate the unintelligent voting which now exists in the selection of candidates for minor officers. At present the average voter goes to the primary with some knowledge of one or two officers and after exercising his intelligent choice on those, passes on to a dozen or more officers of which he knows nothing and on which he frequently votes because he likes the name or because it is the first name on the ballot. The adoption of the Short ballot would remedy this situation to a great extent. The difficulty in the way of the Short ballot is the fact that the constitutional amendment to change this method is considerable of an undertaking. It would be a step, however, in the right direction and should be seriously considered by the Commission on Election Laws.

For some years the Graphic has urged the abolition of the bell alarm for fires in this city and we are pleased to note that Chief Randlett has been able to bring this important matter to a head. LIEUT. EDWARD DESMOND

Lieutenant Edward Desmond of the Newton police department died early Saturday morning following a long illness. He was born 57 years ago at Farnans, Cork, Ireland, and came to Newton when a boy. He became a member of the Newton police force 30 years ago, was made a sergeant in 1917, and advanced to lieutenant in 1923. Few members of the Newton Police Department have had such an texpect in which he was held by a both his comrades in the department and by the public was attested by the large gathering which filled St. Bernard's church on Monday an morning when his funeral services were held.

The funeral cortege proceeded from the home of the deceased on Wildwood avenue, headed by a detail of motorcycle officers and two plate toons of polleemen. 70 in number, commanded by Chief Burke and Captain Mullen. The pall bearers were Lieut. Martin King of the Boston police, inspector Shaughnessy, Sergs, Mahoney and Bannon and Probation of Mere Enegess of the Newton Dejac of Elisk, of which organizations the decased was a member. Levi D. Warren Junior High

The speaker for the Assembly Period last week was Miss Bragg, Assistant Superintendent of Schools. She chose two words as the subject of her talk. "Has It." Miss Bragg told the pupils that "It" meant power and personality. Each letter of the two words stood for something on which the pupils might build power and personality.

H stands for Health. A pupil must have health before he can do his best work and be happy in doing it. Health means fitness for service.

A stands for Ability to get along with people. "What is it that makes us get along with people?" asks Miss Bragg. "It is love, sympathy, and respect for people who deserve it. It is the grace of God in our hearts."

S stands for Skill in school work. I stands for Initiative—the will to make the best of every opportunity to grow.

T stands for Truth—the ability to

GIRL SCOUTS

Newton Girls' Troops are settling down for the winter's work in a business like manner. Camp days behind them, they are turning towards the routine of the next eight months, with its weekly troop meetings, outdoor hikes and other good times. Plans are on foot for a craftsman class to meet once a week, when the girls will make leather belts, purses and other pretty things such as they fashioned at Camp during the summer. A patrol leaders' association will soon be formed in two sections, one for Senior girls and one for Junior. Meetings will be held two or three times a year, at which good times will be planned and an opportunity will be given the girls to discuss the best solution of the problems that come up in a patrol leader's career. Miss Lovejoy, our assistant director, is taking Mr. Archer's course in song leading, which is given at the New England Conervatory of Music on Saturday mornings. As a result a great improvement in troop singing will probably be felt. On Friday evening, December 16th, a health pageant will be given at the High School. Parents and friends of Girl Scouts are cordially invited.

Troop 16, Nonantum, has found a new Captain in Miss Lois Clarke, a Golden Eaglet Girl Scout, now studying at the Boston School of Physical Education. This troop will hold its meetings at the Stearns School Centre on Monday evenings, Its younger sister, Troop 6, has no Captain as yet, and so for awhile its meetings will be conducted by a Field Captain with the help of Mrs. Riddle and Miss Lewis.

Two troops spent nights at Camp Mary Day over the last week end.

OLD RESIDENT DEAD

Mrs. Kathrine Elizabeth Adams, the wife of Henry Adams, died yesterday at her home on Hunnewell avenue after a long period of failing health. Mrs. Adams was born in Townsend and has been a resident here for 55 years. She attended Channing Church and was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Besides her husband she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Charles R. Mayers of Brookline. A son, Arthur Adams, died some years ago. The funeral services will be private.

Troop 18, at the Baptist Church at the Center is at present without a Scout Master. Mr. William Pickersgill, of the Troop Committe is Acting Scout Master, with Mr. P. W. Dalrymple as Assistant. The Troop is meeting however and the Committee is out for a man to take over the Troop actively.

Troop 19 at the Congregational Church in the Center, is still under the direction of Rev. Myron C. Settle, Scout Master and is carrying on its meetings Saturday mornings.

A new Troop of Scouts is in the making at the Stearns School Non-antum, with Hugh Boyd as Chairman of the Troop Committee and John Blakeney, Kenelm Winslow, Louis Fried, J. Ernest Gibson as members. They have an Assistant Scout Master but have as yet not succeeded in securing a man to lead the Troop. This Committee, like the others in the Council, are proceeding along the method of forming and operation which will assure a successful and permanent Troop, even though a longer time is required to develop the work.

The Court of Honor Committee, of Which Commissioner John M. Woodbridge is Chairman, has changed the mame of the old Examining Court of Honor to "Board of Scout Examinations" as being a more logical and consistent terminology. This Board meets October 21, November 4 and 18, December 9 and 16 at the Clatin School, Newtonyille, at 7:30 o'clock. It was the custom last year and herentofore to use Scout Leaders as examiners, in addition to their Troop and field dutles, which added to spreastly to their time devoted to Scouting, away from the boys. This year a Board of civilian examiners is being developed, with the idea of enrolling more people and interest in Norumbega Council and conditions of carrying on Merit Badge examinations has been changed,

One of the seats in a Boston Elevated car caught fire Saturday while the car was coming from Oak Square to Newton Corner. When Nonantum Square was reached aid was summoned from Engine 1 house and the blaze extinguished. A cigarette is blamed for this damage.

Box 613 at 7:24 Saturday night was for a fire in the mill of the New England Spun Silk Company on Eliot street, Upper Falls. The flames were extinguished before much damage resulted. A still alarm on Saturday night was for a fire in an automobile owned by Edmund Brett of Rowerstreet, Auburndale.

Monday evening at 7:40, Box 716 was pulled for a fire in an automobile owned by J. B. Porter of 2117 Commonwealth avenue. The machine was considerably damaged.

THEOLOGICAL INSTITUTION OPENS

Exercises marking the official opening of the 103rd year of the Newton Theological Institution were held Tuesday afternoon (October 18) at J. P. M. in Colby Hall, with Dr. Wintred L. Donovan, secretary of the iacuity, presiding.

Students, alumni, trustees, and riends of the Newton Theological institution were present at the exercises. The principal address was madiby Dr. Frederick L. Anderson, and others participating in the exercises were Prof. Richard M. Vaughn of the chair of Systematic Theology, and by acv. Chester T. Wood of the class of '917, a missionary on furlough from West China, and now instructor in missions in the Semnery and director of student activities. Following the exercises, a reception for stadents, alumni, and friences of the Newton Theological Institution was held at the home of President and Mrs. ton Theological Institution was held at the home of President and Mrs E. C. Herrick on Seminary Hill.

ASKS PARKING RESTRICTIONS

C E. Kelsey has petitioned the Board of Aldermen for parking restrictions at the following places in Newton Centre: in front of the A & P store on Beacon street, in front of the Newton Centre railroad station, on Homer street between Trinity Church and the First Congregational Church.

POLICE NEWS

Saturday morning Inspector Good and Mechanic Bart Cullen laid in-wait on Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale for Peter Gabo of South avenue, Weston. When Peter came along in the truck which he was driving he was stopped and the suspicions of the police were justified when a gallon jug of hooch was found. Gabo was in court on Monday and was fined $50 and given a suspended sentence of two months to the House of Correction. Gabo has been suspected of beotlegging.

Wednesday morning at 1:45, Patrolman Charles Jenkins found a Sudebaker sedan abandoned on Cherry street, West Newton, near Jerome avenue. The car was the property of Harry Steinberg of 1534 Commonweath avenue, Boston, and had been stolen in that city.

Louis Chapin of 1039 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, was notified by the police on Wednesday to restrain his dog, following a complaint of Albert Prescott of 278 Lake avenue, a member of whose family had been bitten by the dog. Dr. Boutelle was notified to examine the animal.

Mrs. John Noell of 141 Walnut street, Newtonville, reported to the police that on Monday night two pet rabbits had been stolen from her premises.

MRS. MARY HARTNETT

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Hartnett of Newland street, Auburndale, wife of Jeremiah Hartnett, were held Saturday morning at Corpus Christi Church. Rev. Joseph Desmond of Beverly, a nephew of the deceased celebrated a solemn requiem mass, assisted by Rev. Edward Roman, deacon, and Rev. Thomas McManamon, sub-deacon. Mrs. Hartnett, who died on October 13th, is survived by her husband and eight children. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham, where commital prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Desmond.

NORUMBEGA C. E. UNION

The next meeting of the Norumbega Christian Endeavor Union will be held at the Waltham Congregational Church, next Tuesday evening. This Union embraces the Newtons, Watertown, Waverley, Belmont, Wal-tham and Weston and has been in existence for 40 years.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

operator was not a proper risk. In order to do this all available evidence must be presented.

Now the basis of a large number of the cases—not all to be sure, but a large majority—is the allegation that somebody in the party had been drinking and that the presence of liquor in the car was directly or indirectly responsible for the smash.

The fact that the board of appeal has upheld the companies in virtually all these cases means that sooner or later an end will be put to drunken driving. The reason is simple—an operator must carry liability insurance. If the company insists that he remain sober while holding one of its policies he is likely to behave, for in no other way may he secure the necessary insurance.

The answer to the whole thing is that drunken driving can be stopped by law, either the criminal law or the insurance law. As long as the results are the same one law, it seems to me, is as good as another and two laws are even better than one providing both are enforced.

laws are even better than one providing both are enforced.

It is difficult for the authorities to tell into whose hands a car may fall, through gift, inheritance or acquisition. With so many automobiles on the road no human agency may be expected to keep track of all of them. Even the sharpest officials get a surprise now and then. I think the most peculiar set of circumstances of which I have heard in this connection was an incident of recent occurrence. And it alf developed as if in a movie. Stranger than fiction indeed.

An automobile of a well known make (not a flivver) was on Tremont street, between Waverley avenue and Park street, headed for Nonantum square. As it approached Park street an inward-bound electric car started to turn the curve into Tremont street. The driver of the automobile did not slacken speed but shot in front of the trolley up on the lawn of Channing Church. What a crazy thing to do, you say! Wait!

Patrolman John McNell was guarding the crossing at Vernon and Park streets and protecting the school children on their way to their homes. He ran over to the car which had halted on the church lawn. Patrolman McNeil put the driver through the usual questioning. The man had no registration and no operator's license. He had stolen the car! A long list of offences was made out against him, including theft of property, driving without a license, driving to endanger the lives of the public, etc. Just as the offender was to be put into court for trial an official of the Worcester Hospital for the Insane came along and identified him as a recently escaped patient. The promptness of Patrolman McNeil resulted in the saving of more than one life. All crazy drivers are not committed to State institutions, however, and many are getting away with it every day.

are getting away with it every day.

If you should spend a full day in any newspaper office, daily or weekly, you would probably be amazed at the number of questions asked by visitors or over the telephone. Some, yes, many of them have no direct bearing on the matter of publication, but as long as the editor and his associates can answer them they are glad to do so.

Not long ago one of the first callers at the Graphic office on a Monday morning was a young girl of about high-school-graduation age, who asked, "Can you direct me to a good dancing school?"

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

There is, in my opinion, every reason to believe that the automobile compulsory liability insurance law is accomplishing a great deal towards curbing the evil of drunken driving. I don't suppose the framers had in mind such a reform, for that wasn't mentioned in debate. Or, if it was I missed it. Now that the law is in effect the insurance companies are prompt to cancell policies of drivers charged with or convicted of operating while under the influence of liquor or owners of such cars as become involved in accidents of this character.

If you do not know how this particular feature of the law operates let me state briefly what usually transpires. When a company finds that a policy holder is not a safe driver because of his drinking habits or the alcoholic appetite of the operator to whom he has loaned the car, it cancels the policy. Who can blame them?

The policy holder has the right to appeal to a State board, which comprises the State Insurance Commissioner, the Registrar of Motor Vehicles and an Assistant Attorney General. When such an appeal is taken the whole case is laid before the board of appeal and all the circumstances are discussed.

The insurance company will first offer evidence to show why the policy was cancelled, seeking to have the board of appeal and all the circumstances are discussed.

The insurance company will first offer evidence to show why the policy was cancelled, seeking to have the board of appeal and all the circumstances are discussed.

The insurance company will first offer evidence to show why the policy was cancelled, seeking to have the board of appeal and all the circumstances are discussed.

The insurance first in the appeal is a suitable token. In the Mayor of scase it is re-election by a large majority—list had been drinking and that the presence of liquor in the discussion of the duties of office and the duties o of character to resist an opportunity to show-off. The Mayor is a modest man and that, in these days of pre-tence, is saying a whole lot. I don't believe Mayor Childs has or to beneve mayor Chinas has ever taken a vacation during list term of office. Had he seen fit to do so no one would have thought it improper. Instead he has "stuck around" and that is more than a lot of Mayors can say for themselves.

that is more than a lot of Mayors can say for themselves.

Our Mayor is not a vocalist. He has no sentimental song which is closely connected with his public appearances; no "Sweet Adeline" like Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, no "Sidewalks of New York" like Gov. "Al" Smith. However, if Mayor Childs should decide to take up singing at public gatherings there is one selection that would be most appropriate and that is "Home Sweet Home."

The telephone rang sharply. I answered promptly and a voice said. "Are you at home?"
"Looks that way," I replied. "Who is this, please?"
"Never mind who I am as long as I read your stuff in the Graphic."
"That's nice of you," I answered political. "I'm not through yet," came the "Good! What is it? I inquired eagerly.

"If your hats give you so much trouble why don't you wear a tamoshanter. Good night!"
On the whole this suggestion seems to appeal to me more than that of my colleague, Mr. Powers, who rather curtly suggests that I don a beret. He tells of those he saw in the Bas Pyrenees mountains between France and Spain, and along the Bay of Bisacy.
I ask him, as a friend, not to mention that country to me again as it was on a motor trip in that very region, between Biarritz and Pau, to be exact, that I lost a nice light overcoat and absorbed a quantity of germs that came near putting me out of business. No beret under any circumstances.

able information was offered her and she left apparently grateful for the small assistance rendered.

It occurred to me at that time that something should be written about the value of a local paper to a community. The writer, I am afraid, would have to be somebody outside the newspaper field. We who are of it fully appreciate the fact that a first class newspaper should stand as a source of benefit to the public and are busily energy to the public open south of the propose who are served by a local paper rendering the werdict themselves. The standing of the paper they read in their homes must, because of that very fact, be high. That it is doing its share for the public cools should give them a generous amount of satisfaction.

It is isn't patting oneself on the back to say that a local newspaper does more than serve the public. The truth is that it reflects the principles

Paul Poiret

A larger type, the largest, indeed, should announce the wonderful fact of the coming to our City of the world's most famous fashion expert, and that Newton has captured him in a lecture and display of living models will for all time settle our City's status in the vanguard of fashionable women! Paul Poiret, called the "king of fashion," is possibly best known to us for his achievement of inventing poiret twill, winter gowns of which were in past years so much worn. "Paul Poiret his achievement of inventing poiret twill, winter gowns of which were in past years so much worn. "Paul Poiret has always worked for the glorification of women." Could more be said that would make him the idol of feminine hearts! From Paris to the auditorium of the High School on the atternoon of Wednesday, October 26, at 2:30 o'clock, is, after all, not a far cry when for the price of one and two dollars the women of Newton may learn what is what in the new frocks, and why—and whether skirts are to be shorter or longer, and why, although it would seem that only one decision on this important question is possible! He is presented under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A., but surely, he belongs to all Women's Clubs! He has an excellent command of the English language, as well as of the feminine figure, and he is promised as illustrating his lectures by creating on the stage, before the eyes of his audience, a complete costume. Mrs. D. M. Goodridge is in charge of the sale of tickets—don't swamp her!

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Auburndale Woman's Club is presenting a rivalry to Monsieur Potret in a Fashion Show for their next meeting, which will be held on Wednesday evening, October 26, at 8 o'clock, in the Auburndale Club House. Given at this bour it is possible that the masculine members of the households will be glad to avail themselves of the opportunity to view the latest fashion models displayed by attractive wearers, so there is method other than in combining the meeting with the Business and Professional Women's Division of the Club, for this change of date and of time—which should be noted by members.

Mrs. F. Leslie Ford and members of the Program Committee are in charge of the Fashion Show, and the costumes loaned by Solov-Hinds, a Boylston street specialty shop—a name to conjure with for fashionable women—will be displayed by living models and described by Mrs. Winthrop A. Stiles. A social hour, with refreshments, served in charge of Mrs. E. Arthur Hancock, will conclude a real evening of festivity, and of satisfaction to all tastes aesthetic and sociable.

COLLEGE NEWS

By Harold P. Carver, N. H. S. '26

One of the most beautiful colleges in the country is that which bears the name Dartmouth. Here in the bills for New Hampshire, and overlooked on the West by the Green Mountains the wearers of the Green have built an institution that is famed over the country, and one that always brings back memories of olden days, and the glorious times that they had when they were undergraduates.

This fall Dartmouth, as is customary, has a fine football team and also according to tradition is crecting new buildings on various parts of the campus. There is a new chemical laboratory that is being stocked with all manners of scientific instruments in an effort to improve the research division of the college, and a new dormitory to take care of the complex problem of living conditions. The campus is one of the prettiest that a chance instructed with an eye to their surroundings, while the new brick buildings are grouped in another quarter and do not affect the pageant that the stately white buildings bring back to mind. Newton has always had a great number of her boys matriculate at Dartmouth and despite the losses that she may meet with in graduation usually returns more than enough to make up for the vacancies that appear. Her students have been known for the active part that they have taken in the college life, and also for the high scholarship that they have taken in the college life, and also for the high scholarship that they have taken in the college life, and also for the high scholarship that they have taken in the Rhodes scholarship, and stands an excellent chance of being stands an excellent chance of being scanding and stands an excellent chance of being scanding and according the country of the scanding through the stately white buildings for the st

Much clerical service had been given, as well as invaluable aid in the making of a survey of Boy and Girl Life in Newton. Miss Peloubet, Secretary of the Council, explained that the Council desired to act as a clearing house for volunteer service, receiving calls from the societies needing help, and referring them to some club chairman of volunteer service who can meet the need through her committee or club membership.

The fact was brought out that much volunteer work is done by the Red Cross through its own Chapter and Branch directors, and an appeal was made for continued service to and support of our great national organization.

tion.

Some of Newton's volunteer service problems were solved on the spot by informal discussion during the luncheon hour or after the meeting, others were left to be worked out after more thought and detailed planning. But it seemed to be the feeling of all that there had been a true "meeting of minds" at the Conference, and that a definite step forward had been taken because of the discussion.

Newton Community Club

Professor Charles C. Batchelder, of New York, who lectured before the Newton Community Club last season, returns again this year for the pro-gram of Thursday, October 27. His topic will be Dictatorships and Democ-racies, and he will describe the under-lying causes for the establishment of dictatorships, and answer the gueslying causes for the establishment of dictatorships, and answer the questions "Can democracies solve social and economic problems," "what will be the result of the social and economic struggle between democracies, dictatorships, and communism," and "are the ideals and policies of the United States threatened." It will be interesting to hear the prophecies on these problems, and to see how nearly they are fulfilled, for the man who can an-the collection of two thousand old American and English mugs, add to the fascination of this historic old tavern. The tavern is oper every day from ten to six. Due to the great interest in many states in this exhibition, the tavern will be kept open until Christmas.

This will be good news to the many women around Boston who may care to motor up there during the good weather, and who have been away during the summer months, and so unable to avail themselves of the treat of the trip and of the fascinating exhibit.

RADIO BROADCAST. Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, literature advisor in the General Federation of Women's Clubs is to broadcast on "Books" next Wednesday, at 10:30 A. M. from WNAC Shepard Stores. #### Auburndale Review Club

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands had a most delightful afternoon of drama on October 10, when two plays were read by Club members. The first, "The Rocking Chair Brigade," comedy or satire as one looks upon it, was given by Mrs. C. H. Keeler, Mrs. C. S. Luitweiler, Mrs. J. S. Patton, Mrs. C. T. Bartlett, Mrs. H. E. Williams, and Miss Katherine L. Bail, a most honored guest as a former president of the Club. The second play, "Sardines," a first prize winning play written by Carolyn Draper Gilpatric for the Maine State Federation of Women's Clubs, was read by Miss Bail, to the great pleasure of this group that once she led, as its highest officer. On Tuesday morning, the Auburndale Review Club had its second and last meeting on Italian Literature, with papers on the great Italian poetwarrior, D'Annunzio, by Miss Jessie MacMillan; on Papini, the famous author, by Mrs. Charles Kattell and on Piranzello, dramatist, by Mrs. Van Patten Steiger. A group of Italian love songs, two in the original Italian and one translated into English, sung by Mrs. Dana Kendall with Mrs. Franklin Leland at the piano, were enjoyed. At the next meeting a study of Spanish Literature will be begun.

Great pleasure was expressed by the members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club in the program presented by Mrs. Robert F. Sawyer as chairman, at the meeting October 17, in the Club rooms, when Hazel Wentworth Munroe gave the dramatic reading, "Pomander Walk," to a large audience. Mrs. Munroe is from Winthrop and this was her first appearance in Newton. She was an honor student at the Academy of Speech Arts, Boston. The play is one of those delightful comedies, and leaves one with the feeling that, after all, life is worth living. Mrs. Munroe's charming personality made her a joy to look at as well as to hear. The initial activity of the year was a Rummage Sale at Forester's Hall Saturday the 15th, under the able chairmanship of Mrs. Schuyler Smith.

INSTALLATION

Simplicity and sincerity marked the installation service of one of the most impressive sessions of its kind ever enacted in the history of The Second Church, on Wednesday, October 26, when Rev. Boynton Merrill became the installed Pastor of the Second Church. The afternoon service was conducted by the Moderator, the Rev. Mr. Norton of Newton Centre with the Rev. Mr. Clark of Auburndale as Scribe. Mr. Joseph D. Wood, Clerk of the Church, read the report of communications between Pastor, Church and committees.

and seliel reaching overond tradition established by ancestral custom.

At 6:30 supper was served by the Women's Guild to the Pastors, wives and guests of the many churches represented at this service. At 7:30 Mr. William Lester Bates, organist of the church, rendered the Service Prelude of "Chorale," "Priere" from "Suite Gothique" by Boellmann. The Chancel Choir showed most finished work on every selection. Rev. Paul. S. Phalen, Pastor of the First Unitarian Church, read the scripture lesson. His selection was the 23d Psalm and was read most impressively. The Rev. Dr. Edward Dwight Eaton of Wellesley spoke in part of the service of responsiveness, loyalty and affection, the greatest thing in the world to pledge to any Pastor. The Rev. Robert L. Underwood of Fitchburg led "The Prayer of Blessing." Rev. Dr. John Edgar Park of Norton, administered communion to the Minister-elect. Rev. Sidney Lovett, Rev. Edward Meavithur Nows and Ley Bus. John Edgar Park of Norton, admin-istered communion to the Minister-elect. Rev. Sidney Lovett, Rev. Ed-ward MacArthur Noyes and Rev. Rus-sell Henry Stafford assisted through-out the service. The Second Church was filled to its capacity, which proves the loyal support promised the Min-ister-elect, The Reverend Boynton Merrill, upon entering his new pastor-ate of the Second Church in West Newton.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Discuss Needs of Oak Hill, Newton-ville and Routine Matters

At the meeting of the School Committee on Monday night the site of a new school for the Claffin district at Newtonville was discussed. Several locations were mentioned. The committee will hold another meeting next Monday night to continue its deliberations on this matter.

The sub-committee appointed to investigate the situation at Qak Hill has canvassed that section to ascertain the number of pupils who would attend a new school, should one be built there. Mr. Church stated that many of the children residing in Oak Hill go to either private or parochial schools.

schools. Because of traffic being obstructed on Walnut street, Newtonville, when the buses are unloading school pupils, the Board of Aldermen has asked the school authorities to do something to relieve this situation. It is probable that the buses will discharge their loads on some of the side streets. Supt. of Schools Wheeler suggested that space near the athletic field be set aside as a parking area for motor cars of the teachers and students. As many as 136 automobiles are parked on the streets near the high school at times.

It was voted to open the new Levi Warren school at West Newton for public inspection on the night of November 7 from 7 to 10. A gift of a statue from the Carter family was accepted. It will be placed near the entrance of the High School building, in the hall. George Edwards, the veteran janitor of the Underwood and Lincoln Schools was granted a leave of absence for one year.

SPORT NOTES Hackley, Too Powerful

Hackley, Too Powerful

Hackley School of Tarrytown, N. Y., was too powerful for Country Day School last Saturday morning at Cabot Field when they defeated the local private school 34 to 7. Both teams scored early in the first period. Country Day kicked off and on the fourth play Ebling shot off-tackle for 35 yards and a touchdown. He carried the ball over for the point. It took Country Day School but four plays to score. Hackley kicked off, and Wilbor ran it back to midfield, a 20-yard end run by Bigelow, a forward pass for 10 yards and a 20-yard off-tackle slant by Greene scored. The Country Day captain, Bigelow, tied the count by carrying the ball over for the point. Midway of the second period Hackley recovered a Country Day fumble on the 13-yard line. Two plays by Ebling and Day resulted in the visitors' second touchdown. Ebling scored the point by rushing. Shortly after the ensuing kickoff Page of Hackley intercepted a Country Day forward pass and reached the 1-yard line where on two plays the locals held inches from their goal ine for two plays. On the third play down Page went over and Shippee the locals held inches from their goal line for two plays. On the third play down Page went over and Shippee kicked the goal from placement. On the first play after the kickoff opening the second half Day raced 62 yards around his left end for the fourth touchdown. The try for point failed. Near the close of the third period Forrest tossed two forward passes to Worral, Hackley right end, with two plays intervening, for a net gain of 60 yards and the fifth touchdown. Day carried the ball over for the 34th and final point.

power in its five games this season Newton high defeated Beverly high on Claffin field last Saturday, 12 to 0, before a much smaller crowd than in earlier games. Several hundred of the spectators on hand were Beverly supporters having made the trip from the North Shore by automobile and us along with a first class band. Newton's 12 points were more than it had cored in all of its previous four games. At least two other chances to score went glimmering. Both teams wore orange and black uniforms but wore orange and black uniforms but no confusion took place as the suits were entirely different. Beverly wore jerseys with black body and bright orange sleeves and their stockings were of plain orange making them stand out distinctively.

Coach Sullivan started an untried combination in the backfield which gives promise of settling the offensive problem with which the Newton mentor has had to contend all season. Francis Duane was at quarterback, Local fans expect that Newton high will win the verdict over Somerville high in the annual football game between the two Suburban league teams at Somerville tomorrow. Gradual but nevertheless continuous improvement in the Newton offensive play makes the orange and black the favorite. Coach Sullivan's outfit has been defeated by both Medford and Everett while Somerville bowed to Medford and Cambridge Latin. Newton's win over the Cantabs by a 3 to 0 score was not indicative of the local eleven's superiority in the game. Several chances to cross the Cantab goal line were thrown away. Newton played well in its game with Medford but the veteran Beck aggregation was too strong. Two weeks ago Somerville was Medford's victim by a 20 to 0 score and in that game seven Somerville first string men suffered injuries. Whether or not all of them will be ready to take the field fomorrow is not known. tor has had to contend all season. Francis Duane was at quarterback, Stanley Brown at fullback, Donald MacIntyce at right half and Sutcliffe at left half. Everett Scheinfein, at left end, called the plays and signals as in the last two games, and chose his plays wisely in nearly every instance. Duane shone particularly well and will probably be given further chances in coming games.

First Quarter

First Quarter

Beverly kicked off with a short kick which Brown ran back to midfield and Newton reeled off three first downs in succession with all four backs taking their turn at carrying. One forward pass from Duane to Scheinfein gaining nine yards completed the third first down. Newton reached the four yard line in three more rushes but on fourth down a forward pass was incompleted in the end zone and Beverly put the ball in play on its 20-yard line. DeRubio's kick barely passed mid-field and Duane reeled off yard line. DeRubio's kick barely passed mid-field and Duane reeled off a 30-yard end run which Hansbury stopped. A few plays later, after Newton had been penalized five yards for offside play, he made ten yards more off tackle. A forward pass from Duane to MacIntyre made it first down on the 10-yard stripe and on the second play the former went over for the first touchdown. A forward pass for the point failed of completion. Following Gatchel's kickoff to Beverly Duane intercepted a forward pass to put the tercepted a forward pass to put ball on Beverly's 40-yard line. A p later the quarter ended. Newton later the quarter ended. Beverly 0.

Second Quarter

Newton could not gain and Duane kicked to the 2-yard line where Scheinfein fell on the ball and Beverly kicked. The Newton line was through and deflected the ball which MacIntyre scooped up on the 30-yard line. After making one first down Newton lost the ball to Beverly on their 13-yard line. The visitors could not gain against Newton's sterling defense and DeRubio kicked again. The Newton forwards hurried him so that his punt traveled only to the 40-yard line. Two plays netted 8 yards and Newton received a 15-yard penalty which put the ball back to midfield. Connolly intercepted a Newton pass and ran 40 yards to Newton's 35 yard line where Harrington brought him down. A pass netted 10 yards and then Newton look the ball ways on downs. lown. A pass netted 10 yards and then Newton took the ball away on downs. Two consecutive first downs and Duane kicked deep into Beverly ter-ritory. Third Quarter

After Gatchell kicked off to Beverly an exchange of kicks placed the ball on Beverly's 20-yard line. Beverly made a first down in two rushes and Gatchell then threw Ward for a loss. Brown intercepted a forward pass on. Beverly's 30-yard mark. Andres, who had replaced MacIntyre, Sutcliffe and Brown gained ten yards in three rushes. Newton was penalized for being offside on the next play but Duane gained it back on a lateral from Sutcliffe. Duane then tossed a forward to Scheinfein, who was free behind the goal line, and the Newton end completed the play for the second touchdown. Andres failed to kick the goal. After Gatchell had kicked off Beverly made a first down and then was forced to punt. Beverly was offside and the ball was brought back. DeRubio again punted to Perry, who had taken Duane's place at quarter with Duane going back into Brown's position, and Perry ran the kick back 18 yards. A few plays later the period ended.

Fourth Quarter

Several Newton substitutes replaced the first string men. Shortly after the period began Connolly intercepted anmuch better team.

When "Newton Corner," as it was then called, was still a quiet little village, we who are now middle aged used to attend Miss Spear's private school and there Miss Nellie M. Hart drilled us in French and labored with us to produce charming little French plays!

Last Sunday after five years of helpless invalidism, where even speech was denied, Miss Hart's life closed peacefully at her home on Richardson street—the last of her immediate family—we who knew her best remember her for her quiet personality, her love of good reading, great enjoyment of travel, especially of foreign travel, her command of the French language making the latter especially enjoyable. Miss Hart was a devout member of the Church of the Advent, but even before her late illness her life was spent so quietly in her home that her death will be noticed chiefly by the few loyal friends in the city where she had lived for nearly three quartres of a century.

The funeral on Tuesday afternoon was conducted by Dr. Van Allen and his assistant and ten boys from the Advent choir.

MR. WHITING HONORED

Mr. Edward E. Whiting of Mt. Vernon street, Newtonville, who has just been appointed by Governor Fuller as a trustee of the Boston Elevated Railway Company was honored Monday night by his Masonic brethren by a dinner tendered by the Fourth Estate Lodge, A. F. & A. M. at the Boston City Club. About 150 Masonic friends of Mr. Whiting were present many of them occupying high positions in civil and public life. Among the speakers were Hon. Charles E. Hatfield, Mr. Henry Whitmore and Mr. Ralph W. Stearns, all Newton residents.

It was notable that the speakers residents.

It was notable that the speakers dwelt especially upon one outstanding fact in their references to the guest of honor—it was that he had achieved distinction in the newspaper business because he had been proven one to be trusted, winning the confidence of men in important public positions because of that. Being efficient and known to keep faith, he was, therefore, wisely chosen for the public service, they declared.

One of the pleasant sidelights of service, they declared.

One of the pleasant sidelights of the occasion was the presentation of a gold-headed cane to Mr. Whiting, the gift of Fourth Estate Lodge, the presentation being made by James McLeod in his usual happy way.

Another gift was a history of the West End Street Railroad, handsomely bound. A large bouquet of chrysanthemums was sent to Mrs. Whiting.

EDITORIAL

While there is certainly no valid reason why a public service corporation should render service at less than cost, we are sorry that the local street railway company is compelled by the financial aspect of the case to reduce the Newton-Waban bus line schedule from half hourly to hourly time.

The building figures for the month of September in Massachusetts show that Newton is second in the estimated valuation of new residential structures, being exceeded only by Boston. Newton's figures are $549.100, with Medford next with $258,700.

ized for their children, and commented "that even though the old school was in a very dangerous condition, it is probable that the new building might have been delayed had not the people of Lower Falls protested vigorously." Alderman Baker said "that while he had been of the opinion that to spend $150,000 for a school building to house $3 pupils, would be extravagance, he had reached the conclusion that it is better to erect this building inasmuch as it will provide for both school and playground facilities, and the savings which would be effected by building a smaller and less expensive structure, would not, in the end amount to much." The Board then voted to appropriate $141,879.30 to build the new school. The money will be raised through issuing 15-year bonds on a School Loan.

Alderman Ball asked that the rules

SCHOOL NOTES

Warren Junior High School

The speaker for the regular Tues day Assembly at the Levi F. Warren Junior High was Mr. Francis Bacon, a Assistant Superintendent of schools and Director of Secondary Education. Mr. Bacon chose as his subject Roose, welt. He told many interesting stortles of Roosevelt's life that showed the qualities of lendership and good citizenship. He emphasized Roosevelt's determination to overcome all obstacles, "There are many things in school to test our spirit and determination" he argued, but if the pupils would keep Roosevelt in mind, as an example and work hard and play hard as he did, they too could rise to men and women of character. "We cannot see him, but we can be like him" was his last advice to his attentive young hearers.

A dramatization of "His Soul Goes Marching On" was given by the pupils of the school. Paul Leahy took the part of Roosevelt very well.

The Girls Glee Club sang "Roosevelt Day," the words of which were composed by three ninth grade pupils, Doris Elliott, Florence Bell and Helen Perkins.

CHESTNUT HILL HOUSE BURGLARIZED

Tuesday night the home of Thomas P. Beal, 47 Lawrence road, Chestnut Hill, was entered and jewelry valued at $10,000 stolen. Mr. Beal is president of the Second National Bank at Boston. He and his wife were outduring the evening and it is thought that the burglary occurred between 9 and 11 o'clock. The house was entered after a porch had been climbed and a second story window jimmied. Although servants were in the house they did not hear the thieves at work, and the break was not discovered until Mr. and Mrs. Beal returned. The Newton police were notified and private detectives summoned by Mr. Beal. Although the job looked as if Newton police were notined and private detectives summoned by Mr. Beal. Although the job looked as if it had been done by professionals, fingerprints were left which may serve as clues to trace the burglars. Practically every room on the second floor of the house was ransacked as the thieves searched for valuables. It is thought that the break was committed by members of one of the New York or Chicago gangs which have been operating in and around Boston for some weeks past.

About 1:30 Wednesday morning, a few hours after the Beal house at Chestnut Hill had been looted, thieves broke into the A & P store at 995 Boylston street, Newton Highlands, and into the drug store of Joseph Delerzon at 999 Boylston street. In both stores cigars and cigarettes were stolen, and small amounts of money. stolen, and small amounts of money. and where the motorist is allowed to leave his car but very limited parking is allowed.

The Retail Trade Board of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, composed of the larger stores in the "Hub" has sought to effect a remedy for the eternal parking problem. Sponsoring a free bus service operated through the central shopping area between the city's two largest garages, the Motor Mart in Park Square, at the southern end of the retail district, and the Bowdoin Square Garage at the northern end, these stores urge their motoring customers to park their cars in either of the garages and to continue the journey intown by bus.

The plan, after a substantial tryout, is working satisfactorily. In Boston, congested traffic, peculiarly, is found only in the downtown sections—a condition due, undoubtedly, to the opening of the two great traffic arteries leading directly into the city. Consequently, suburban and out-of-town motorists driving into the city find clear roads all the way in, and ample parking space awaiting in either of the large garages of which mention has been made.

The bus service is operated throughout each business day from 8 o'clock until 6 and makes stops convenient to all of the principal stores.

POLICE NEWS

Thursday morning at 12:38, Raymond Perkins of Westwood was arrested by Patrolman J. E. Green, charged with operating an auto while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried November 4.
Wednesday afternoon at the corner of Elm and Webster streets, West Newton, cars driven by Rev. P. M. Wood of 2039 Commonwealth avenue, and Joseph Murabito of 25 Adams avenue, Waltham, collided. Murabito's car was badly damaged and Mrs. Marie Petrucci of Tileston street, Boston, who was one of its occupants, received a severe cut on her left leg: she was taken to the Newton Hospital. Patrolman John Green, who was passing, arrested Murabito on the charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried on November 2nd.

Alfred Lapham, 15, of Central avenue, was arrested Wednesday night by Officer Turner for taking without authority the car of Charles Dearborn of 310 Lowell avenue. He will be tried today in the juvenile court.

She was born in Keene, N. H., on May 1st, 1883, being a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Lyman. She had been in poor health for nearly a year and failed rapidly during this month. She was a member of the Second Congregational Church and was an active worker in the Sunday School having a class of young people for whom her efforts were untiring. She had a very loving and kind disposition always ready to help some one and to make life brighter for those with whom she came in contact. She had a host of friends and will be sadly missed.

The funeral was held at her late home, 100 Crescent street, Auburndale, on Tuesday, Oct. 25th.

Rev. Boynton Merrill and Rev. Robert L. Underwood officiated. The flowers were many and beautiful. She is survived by her husband, Louis F. Webster; a daughter, Eleanor, and a son, Howard, and four sisters. Interment was at Greenlawn Cemetery, Keene, N. H.

DEATH OF MR. MUTHER

Mr. Lorenz Muther, a president of Newton for the past 18 years died last Saturday in his S4th year. His life was a remarkably active one. Starting his business life at the age of nine years with a limited education, it continued without interruption until last December. His particular forte was solving mechanical problems of extreme nicety and detail to perfection. Problems which he followed with unlimited knowledge and courage. His aim was to constantly build better and constructively. At the time of his death he was president of the Peerless Machinery Co.

He is survived by seven sons and one daughter.
Funeral services were held Thursday at the home of his daughter Mrs. Frederick W. C. Bray on Fairview street, Newton, Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure, rector of Grace Church officiated and the interment was in the Newton Cemetery.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

Prison.

The official with whom I talked informed me that the number of thefts in Boston alone had been reduced at least 25 per cent. "Boston," he said, "is where the most stealing is done." "But the man who has stolen a car and has been convicted and put on probation knows better than to try again," said he. "They know that if they are caught it means a long stretch."

they are caught it means a long stretch."

Therefore, as my informant explained, the stealing is now done largely by beginners. The professional automobile thief is passing out of the picture. The fact is he has been driven out by the combined efforts of the police, the prosecuting officers of the counties and the courts. There was a time when the misappropriation of automobiles was a minor matter and crooked second-hand dealers reaped a harvest with the assistance of enterprising thieves.

All this is fast changing. The tightening-up of the statutes has done it. I think it is a pretty conclusive answer to the argument that laws cannot be made to improve the general behavior of some people. They can, if enforced. Here is evidence from one in a position to know the facts.

The fact that the District Attorneys are standing back of the police is also not to be overlooked. Together they have been alert and thorough, with the result that the automobile owners and the insurance companies may breathe a great deal easier. In other words, the rights of decent citizens are receiving protection.

I do not know if the gum machines on the Boston Elevated cars and the candy slot boxes in the subway stations are a source of profit to the road. I assume they are or they would not be allowed to remain. Somebody must be getting something of them. That does not refer to the contents of the boxes, but the money consideration involved.

be getting something of them. That does not refer to the contents of the boxes, but the money consideration involved.

I hope these things have proved a great boon to the Elevated's more or less tottering finances. They are sufficiently in the way of passengers and for that reason should justify themselves. If their presence is keeping the fares down to ten cents I am satisfied. If more gum chewers would produce a five-cent fare I will agree to do my share, although I have no taste for it. Anything to help out.

But I have a better suggestion than that to offer. As one of those who get tangled-up in the subway rush of late afternoon and early evening it takes me anywhere from 45 to 65 minutes to get from Park street, Boston, to Park street, Newton. That's too long, particularly when one is hungry.

Now if the Elevated would make some arrangement with the Automatic Lunch concern I think there would be not only a monetary profit but a public benefit. Let there be sandwiches and ples added to the present bill-offare. Gum and chocolate are all right but not lasting enough. A sandwich or a slice of pie would better satisfy one's cravings.

I leave it to any one who has to I leave it to any one who has to take this tedious supper-hour ride, half of which is spent creeping through the subway, if it isn't a strain on one's self-control. The automatic lunches are no experiment. They might easily be installed. All you would have to say would be, "Please give me a sandwich and a silec of lemon pie and wake me up when we get to Newton."

In a chat with one of the leading officials of the Motor Vehicle Registry I learned a decidedly interesting plece of information. He told me that the stealing of automobiles in Massachusetts had been greatly reduced. The explanation was simple—convicted persons are being severely punished.

Among the so-called "crime" measures passed by the Legislature of 1926 was one providing that upon a second conviction for theft of an automobile the defendant shall be sentenced to State Prison from eight to ten years. It gives the court no alternative. In other words the judge may not exercise his discretion and permit the release of the prisoner on probation for a second time.

The proseculing authorities, of course, are required to present the record of the defendant to prove that he had previously engaged in stealing automobiles. Conviction for a second offense leads only to State Prison.

The official with whom I talked informed me that the number of thefts to lose mine.

Isn't it funny? We fail to celebate some of the National holidays which deserve our respect, attention and fitting observance and we breakout and have a glorious time over an annual event the significance of which we know little or nothing. Hallowe'en is due next Monday. Hooray! All sorts of parties will be held indoors and all sorts of mischief performed outdoors.

Far be it from me to protest. I think the occasion should be remembered and I wouldn't mind if my name were included in the lists of invitations to a half-dozen parties. I would enjoy gobbling a nice feed and would try to do my utmost to play bridge or dance if called upon to earn my eats in that way.

But here we go with our Hallowe'en stuff and we, or most of us at least, don't know what it's all about. As far as that goes it wouldn't make the slightest difference if we did. As an excuse for a gay evening it could not be improved upon. I have never at tended one of these that I didn't marvel at the ingenuity of the hostess and the trouble she had taken to arrange all sorts of weird games, etc.

vel at the ingenuity of the hostess and the trouble she had taken to arrange all sorts of weird games, etc.

Still, I'll wager a nice red apple that if called upon to answer questions as to the meaning of Hailowe'en I should have to "look it up." I was not unlike my associates in my boyhood days and confess that I mixedup in all sorts of doings for which I probably should have been, and was sometimes properly spanked. But I had a great time and that's what I supposed the event was intended to furnish.

However, let's not worry over the origin of Hailowe'en but make it a gathering for fun. There isn't any too much of it in this world anyway, and when we can cut loose and do nobody, including ourselves, any harm we should.

Now to get down to the practical. I have seen in Brookline traffic ways for pedestrians marked out with metal blocks, circular in shape and built to withstand the ravages of shoe leather, storm and vehicular contact. These, it must be admitted, are more durable than painted white lines. Furthermore, they are definite. As time goes on they are definite. As time goes on they do not fade but shine the brighter.

Very well then, what do our Newton authorities think of them and why don't they make an experiment? I can almost hear the answer before it leaves City Hall. It is, "We can't afford it!"

Nevertheless, Newton, which to my mind has not made itself conspicuous for advanced traffic provisions and regulations, has got to take these new ideas under consideration some day. If the wandering feet of the jay-walker can be turned into the straight and narrow path by metal blocks I think they should be provided.

Dodging across the street helps one to learn to use his eyes, ears, muscles, wits and other faculties, but sometimes there are those who are not fully equipped or who haven't developed all these gifts. To them brass discs set in the pavement are more helpful than an indistinct white line

editor:

Regarding toy firearms and air rifles.

Having assisted a confrere this norning in removing an eye from a title fellow of about seven years, I am constrained to protest through your columns against the vicious habit of y firearms and air rifles.

Toy pistols are frequently given at bout three years, and the child soon earns to point it directly at his playmates, his own brothers and sisters, and even father and mother. The next tep is a bean blower, and later an air life, which is usually also aimed at hose about him. Long before a child took, doubt for the treets being jammed.

Hopping into a car to chase the fire engine is pretty soft. It doesn't require much effort and if the fire is a disastrous one, as those who seek the thrilis probably hope, then a nice entertainment has been provided at the expense of an individual or an insurance company.

Compared to "running to fire" in the old days, automobile fire-chasing is a synthetic joy of modern times. The natural curiosity to see a fire is no crime, but when some youthful sheik hopes to put on a show for a car load of flappers it's high time the bell alarm system was silenced.

To me the glamour of romance surrounding fires passed out when the horses were taken off and motor apparatus installed. Nobody thinks of running after a speeding motor pump or ladder truck. But there was something in the plunging horses—usually the finest examples of horsefiesh that money could buy—as they made their way through the streets. One just had to run. The excitement was infectious. If you didn't get all stirred up you just didn't possess the normal quantity of red blood.

Then the sound of "fire bells" at night, or early in the morning is now only a memory. Ah! what a memory.

same sort of an injury as an air rifle, and is equally as vicious, and has no place as a plaything in a child's life.

To this may be added the frequent injuries met with in children due to scissors, paper knives, ice picks, nut picks, pencils, pens, etc. A child holding one of these dangerous things, when having it taken from him, often holds so tight that it slips from the older child's hand and plunges directly into the eye. I have seen babies playing with all of the above objects, and not always without the knowledge or without consent of the parents.

WANTS FOUNTAIN REMOVED

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a request was transmitted through Mayor Childs from Street Commissioner Stuart asking for permission to remove the large fountain in Newton Centre square at the corner of Beacon and Centre streets. This fountain, an ornate granite affair, was erected in 1907 by popular subscription. The persons responsible for its building apparently did not realize that horses were to be almost completely replaced by automobiles within a comparatively few years. Since this happened, the fountain has been very little used, and it is claimed that it is a menace to traffic.

On Thursday, Oct. 13, Deputy Grand Master Frank E. George, I. O. O. F., installed the elected and appointed of-ficers of Newton Lodge No. 92 at Odd Fellows Hall, Northgate Park, West Newton, Mass. The simple yet impressive ceremony of inducting the officers into their various chairs was carried through in a manner that was worthy of the best traditions of the Order. After the ceremony of installation remarks were made by the new Noble Grand, by Deputy Grand Master George, his Marshal, Brother Otto Damond and other members of the suite. The retiring Noble Grand, William T. Campbell, who takes the office of Sitting Past Grand for the ensuing term, was presented with a Past Grand's Collar on behalf of Newton Lodge. After the ceremony of installation dancing was enjoyed by the many friends of Newton Lodge who attended. Refreshments were served and dancing was resumed until 12 o'clock. Music was furnished by William Rivers' orchestra and was extremely well rendered.

Vice-Grand, Chauncey Steimetz; Chaplain, Henry K. Buck.
An unusual and interesting event occurred that is well worth noting. Brother Frank E. Hunter was installed for the 36th successive term.

AUTO INSURANCE

When the compulsory automobile insurance law was enacted in this State, Insurance Commissioner Monk authorized 62 companies to issue approved automobile liability insurance policies to Massachusetts automobile owners. Sixteen of these companies were mutual companies and 46 were stock companies were mutual companies and 46 were stock companies.

In 1926 the mutual companies were insuring between 20 and 25 per cent of all Massachusetts automobile owners who were carrying public liability or personal injury insurance. Inasmuch as the new law required every Massachusetts automobile owner to carry public liability insurance, it seems likely that the majority of them who had not previously bought this kind of insurance would secure the necessary protection of the mutual plan because of the reduced cost possible to policy of the reduced cost possible to policy holders in well managed mutual insuror the reduced cost possible to proceed the holders in well managed mutual insurance companies.

In the opinion of A. Shirley Ladd, secretary of Twin Mutuals, which insure automobile owners exclusively, and who is therefore well qualified to make an estimate of probable gains by mutual companies, the number of Massachusetts automobile owners insuring on the mutual plans today is approximately 40 per cent of all automobiles in the State.

He gives as the reasons for the increase in popularity of the mutual plan the savings which mutual policyholders make, the prompt and efficient claim service which mutual companies render through highly organized and efficiently managed claim departments, and the underlying principle of mutual insurance — mutuality — which means simply always considering the interests of the policyholder first. "A mutual insurance company," he says, "is owned by the policyholders' insurance problems, and the will to serve builds a feeling of good, will which is invaluable."

REAL ESTATE

Mrs. Emma R. Dowley has sold through the Burns agency her tenroom single Colonial home together with garage and about a half acre of land situated at 59 Hancock avenue, Newton Centre. Mr. Norton A. Kent of Cambridge has purchased this property, which is valued at $25,000.

Burns and Sons report also the sale of the duplex frame house at 78 Page road, Newtonville, together with garage and 7,800 square feet of land, all valued at $12,500. Leo Dinner conveyed title to Michael Maguire, who will occupy the premises.

TWO LARGELY ATTENDED LECTURES

By William D. Kilpatrick, C. S. B.

The beautiful new Christian Science Church, corner of Walnut and Otis streets, Newtonville, was well filled on Thursday and Friday evenings of last week, extra chairs being required for the Friday evening attendance. The lecturer was introduced, Thursday evening, by Mr. Wentworth P. Barker, First Reader of the church and Friday evening by Mrs. Elizabeth C. Williams, the Second Reader. Mr. Barker in his introduction said: By William D. Kilpatrick, C. S. B.

Some of you may tonight be attend-ing your first lecture on Christian Science to learn something of this religion and the cause of its rapid and continued growth, others are here be cause they have received much light and help from previous lectures during the past years; to you all we extend a cordial welcome.

The lecturer of the evening has a message for us that is of special interest at this time as he has taken for his subject: "Science and Religion"

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

Highlands

The Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands will meet on Saturday afternoon, the 29th, at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Miss Edith McCann, of 231 Upland avenue. The secretary Mrs. W. E. Moore, has the distinction of starting off the new year's study of Shakespeare in presenting the Quiz on the first two acts of Macbeth. Members of this Club gain a keen insight into the master mind of this dramatist, his methods, his analytical genius, and his knowledge of human nature, by their study and the questions that test their understanding. It is a most worthwhile literary study in these days of the more strenuous activities that do not always prove as satisfactory.

FALL MEETING. (Your editor is in lebted to Miss Carolyn J. Peck, State Chairman of Press and Publicity, for the following entertaining and informative account.) High lights of the fall meeting of the State Federation at Onset, on October 19, included the flying of flags and decorations of bunting on the principal buildings in this town and in Wareham. Times have indeed changed, when in honor of a gathering of women townships fly their colors! Once for a group of women to wish to meet would have been declared the beginning of the destruction of the home, and to countenance such an idea would have been a sure sign of mental deficiency! But having fought their way to freedom, and having demonstrated that being away from the stove and children long enough to attend a meeting—or to vote!—has not made the ceilings fall or the children suffer, they now have gained the heights of recognition—for flags fly for them, even as for their masculine brethren!

flags fly for them, even as for their masculine brethren!

Mrs. Theodore A. Robinson, president of the hostess Club, the Monday Club of Wareham, in her greeting alluded to the famous Wareham oyster, fit for the finest menu, and to Cape Cod as the centre of the cranberry industry. The oyster indeed came out of its shell in hospitality to the State Federation! She further stated that from the Wareham railroad station are shipped more cranberries than from any other place in the world. This is an item of fact that is probably not realized by the majority of Massachusetts citizens.

There was considerable discussion in regard to the legislative policy of the Federation. For the last year no bills have been endorsed, and the question of continuing this policy or of returning to the old method of endorsing was up for decision. Finally it was voted to postpone action on this matter until the midwinter meeting of the Federation, this action being Florida have had their renaissance, and now New England is going to have hers. We are going to turn to our own advantage the resources with which we built up other sections of the United States. We have unique attractions, but we have dwelt on the rathole and forgotten the architectural beauties of our house. We have 3,000 miles of the most beautiful seaboard, 2,500 of them in the State of Maine, and if we don't appreciate our own blessings, no one will appreciate them for us. We are not perfect, to be sure, but even California and Florida have flies in their ointment, although they don't mention them.

If we go backward, our children must go elsewhere to get opportunity for activity, but we can create these opportunities right at home. Every time one buys New England is stimulated. Hoover says that partronizing home industries, is the only way to solve our troubles.

New England must cultivate spiritual gifts as well as placed.

At the Club meeting of the previous day, Wednesday, the 19th, an unusually large attendance heard Dr. Abram Myerson, of Tutts Medical School, give his lecture on "Heredity and Environment." His information was well-given and enthusiastically received. During the business meeting which preceded the program Mrs. George P. Hatch gave a most amusing and interesting account of the State Federation meeting at Swampscott last May.

Christian Era Study Club

Mrs. Waldo Hutchinson, of Washington street, was hostess for the Christian Era Study Club on last Monday afternoon, the president, Miss Ella B. Smith, presiding. As designated by the name of the Club, the topic for study since its founding, has been the growth of the Christian people, including the incident political and histerical situation. At present, the break with the Mother Country and subsequent events are the subjects for discussion, and at this meeting Mrs. Charles Kattelle outlined the "Federal Constitution" and gave a word picture of its "Father." James Madison, The story of "Shay's Rebellion," more familiar to school children than their elders, was brought to memory again by Mrs. S. H. Selloy.

Newton Federation

The first Executive Board meeting of the 1927-1928 year for the Newton Federation was held in the library of the Technical High School on Tuesday, October 25, at 2:30 p. m with the new president. Mrs. J. Porter Russell, in the chair.

The recording secretary, Mrs. Solomon Townsend, Jr., and the corresponding secretary, Mrs. William L. Vosburgh, gave reports, bringing out the decision to assume the Christmas Seal sale for three years and the vote to train leaders for the Girl Scouts.

An appeal for magazines of a homemaking tendency for use in the schools has been made to the Federation.

The treasurer, Mrs. Alfred E. Vose, reported a substantial balance in the treasury on October 5th of $487.78. A motion was carried to give the $100 Liberty Bond which is owned by the Federation to the Newton Hospital, if the Finance Committee finds it inexpedient to use this bond, the equivalent in money is to be given.

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, president of the Newton Central Council, appealed to the Clubs for co-operation and interest in that organization.

The several committee chairmen outlined their plans for the season's program.

In the book of Proverbs it is written "In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death." And Jesus said, "If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death."

death."

Therefore if we are living in a righteous manner,—thinking rightly,—we are defeating death, are we not? And if death is a stepping-stone to heaven,—and that is what the world has been taught these many centuries,—then we are keeping ourselves out of heaven by righteous living. If the righteous man can never experience death, as we are told in Proverbs, then something is radically wrong in the teachings of a theology which declares that we go to heaven when we die. If we go to heaven when we die, then, according to the Scriptures, the righteous man can never go to heaven then, according to the Scriptures, the righteous man can never go to heaven because he can never see death, Jesus called death an enemy and St. Paul tells us that "the wages of sin is death." If sin leads to death, as the Bible tells us, and death is an open door to heaven, as the theologians tell us, sin, then, is the key to the kingdom of heaven. If heaven is a desirable ultimate, and we all admit that it is, and death leads us into heaven, as we have been so long time taught, was not Jesus defeating the very ends for which he came among us when he brought Lazarus back from "he grave, when he raised from the bier the son of the widow of Nain, when he restored to life Jairus' daughter, and when he walked forth free from his own rock-bound tomb the third day after his crucifision?

Thus we see how incompatible, from the standpoint of Holy Writ, are the teachings and practices of Jesus with those of so-called natural science or a science based upon matter as a reality or creation of God. Christian Scientists are rapidy learning the futility of endeavoring to work out one's salvation from the basis of both matter and Spirit, and are learning that absolute reliance on the teachings of Jesus is the only means of salvation from all the ills of the flesh. They are finding that any attempt to mix the medicine of Mind, or God. in other words, the Science of Christianity, with the nostrums of matter, or material science, will avail nothing. To compromise the truth to satisfy fear or custom will prove disastrous. A case in point came to my attention some little time ago. A lady aged seventy-five or thereabouts was suffering with what physicians had diagnosed to be heart trouble. Se had been under this sentence for some years and was rapidly growing worse. Finally she had to be taken to a sanatorium where she could be given the attention and nurse.
